

Congress Adjourns After Approving Foreign Aid Bill

Members Home To Prepare For Campaigns

Washington.—It's up to the voters now to judge how good a job the 85th congress did in coping with problems of the dawn of space age, the recession and other issues.

This year's session ended in the pre-dawn hours yesterday, sending senators and representatives homeward after nearly eight months of work on Capitol Hill.

Most of them will get little vacation—they'll be starting to campaign in earnest for the fall elections which will fill all 435 house seats and 34 of the senate's 96 places.

Unless some emergency requires a special session, the house and senate will not meet again until Jan. 7 for the opening of the 86th congress.

Foreign Aid Approved
One of the most important bills passed the last day was a compromise $3,298,092,500 foreign aid money measure. It also was one of the last.

The senate took it up for the first time during the day, light hours and passed it after beating back efforts by Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) to cut the senate total of $3,518,092,500.

The bill then was rushed to conference with the house which some time ago had passed a bill carrying $3,078,092,500. After nearly five hours of haggling, the conferees agreed on the compromise that just about split the difference.

The final product, passed after midnight, totaled $652 million less than Eisenhower asked originally for economic and military aid to friendly nations in this fiscal year ending next June 30.

Long Final Day
As generally happens, the last day of the session was a busy and a long one. The house adjourned at 2 a.m. Sunday. The senate followed at 4:11 a.m., ending an 18-hour session.

Interspersed with legislation, there were final bursts of oratory and exchanges of pleasantries between the us-

5 Killed, 10 Hurt As Canadian Jets Crash in France

Grostenquin, France.—Two Canadian jet fighter planes collided today and one fell flaming into the hospital of this Royal Canadian Air Force base. Five persons were killed and 10 injured.

Air force fire crews quickly got the hospital blaze under control and evacuated patients and personnel to an emergency ward set up in the base recreation rooms.

Three of those killed were crew members of the jet fighters. Two of the dead were in the hospital but an RCAF spokesman said it was not yet determined whether they were patients or medical personnel.

The plane which missed the hospital fell into an empty field.

Stolen Stop Signs Figure In Fatal Crash

Menasha Man Dies After Collision at Calumet Intersection

Stop signs stolen from the intersection of Lake Park and old Manitowoc roads in Calumet county were major contributing factors in a fatal accident there about 5:30 Sunday night.

Earl S. Stroetz, 60, 398 Elm street, Menasha, was fatally injured when his car was struck by a car driven by Mitchell Gebheim, 18, 502 E. Summer street, Appleton.

Stroetz was taken by Larry's ambulance to St. Elizabeth hospital where he died about 20 minutes after arrival. Mrs. Stroetz was pinned in the back seat of the car. It took 12 minutes for ambulance attendants to free her. She was in serious condition today with a skull fracture, broken right arm, broken right leg, severe lacerations and possible internal injuries.

Discovered Theft Friday
Calumet County Patrolman Irvin Vice said this morning the removal of the stop signs was noticed Friday night and the town of Harris on highway crews were notified.

He said the bolts holding the signs had been removed with a wrench and left at the base of the pole. Because of the height of the signs, he said the possibility of their having been stolen by children is ruled out.

The signs made the Lake Park road the arterial. Gebheim told Calumet Sheriff C. J. Kosmosky he was unfamiliar with the road and believed the other car would have to stop.

Stroetz was the fourth traffic fatality in Calumet county this year.

Rural Seymour Youth
Gebheim, suffering from shock and bruises, ran to the home of John Kemps nearby to call the ambulance and authorities. Dist. Atty. Franklin J. Schneider said there would be no inquest.

The Stroetz car was struck in the right rear and forced against a tree. Stroetz was found face down in a ditch 17 feet from the car.

In another Fox Cities area accident, Larry Tank, 19, route 2, Seymour, was killed instantly when the left side of his car was ripped off by a concrete abutment on a Sha-

Saved by Youths

New London.—A 6-year-old New London boy owes his life to the prompt action of his brother and a playmate after being buried in a sand cave-in at 11:05 this morning near the VFW clubhouse.

Fred Stratton, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Stratton, 211 E. Beacon avenue, apparently is none the worse for the ordeal. He is being treated at New London Community hospital.

He and his brother, George, 9, and Keith Brown, 11, New London, were sliding down the big banks of sand when a cave-in buried the younger Stratton. Only his t-shirt was visible. The other two boys started digging immediately with their hands to free the boy.

In the meantime, two women rushed to the Don Homan home nearby to call the fire department. Rochelle Homan, 16, rushed to the scene and finished pulling the unconscious boy from the sand.

He was taken to the hospital by Chief of Police Harry Macklin in a squad car.

The U. S. Navy's History-Making atomic submarine Nautilus is framed by Old Glory flying from an escort cutter as the sub moves up New York harbor for a welcome today after returning home.

New York Cheers Returning Nautilus

Police Helicopters, Launches Join Naval Craft as Escorts

New York.—The atom-powered submarine Nautilus, fresh from her passage under the North pole ice, got a whistling, cheering but rainy welcome from New York today.

Police helicopters circled a flotilla of about 20 navy destroyer escorts, coast guard cutters, tankers, tugs, police launches and fireboats. They escorted the Nautilus through the harbor, part way up the Hudson river, and then around the tip of Manhattan headed for the navy yard in Brooklyn.

The windows of Manhattan's skyscrapers bordering the water were jammed with office workers who waved greetings to the Nautilus crew standing smartly at attention on deck in a driving rain. The Nautilus cruised past some 300 persons huddled under makeshift shelters and umbrellas at Battery park and as far north as Forty-second street where it made a wide, sweeping turn and headed back down the river.

Traditional Welcome
Fireboats arched cascades of water skyward and liners berthed along the river blew their hoarse whistles in the traditional harbor greeting.

The mighty underwater boat made her dress cruise along three miles of Manhattan's shore to give New Yorkers a better look at her. The rain cut the number that would have normally have crowded waterfront vantage points to watch her.

Warren Calls Special Term Of High Court

Tribunal to Meet Thursday to Act on Little Rock Case

Washington.—The supreme court today hurriedly ordered one of its rare special session sessions for Thursday, Aug. 28, to consider the Little Rock, Ark., school segregation case.

With an eye on the calendar, Chief Justice Warren called the high court back from summer vacation to step into the touchy case just five days before schools reopen in Little Rock on Sept. 2.

Just a year ago, violence erupted when nine Negroes enrolled in Little Rock's Central High school under a federal court order for racial integration.

Stay Granted
Before the nine supreme court justices when they take the bench at noon Thursday will be an application for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. NAACP wants the supreme court to overrule a federal district court at Little Rock which granted a 2½-year delay in desegregation.

The circuit court of appeals at St. Louis issued an order voiding this delay, but then granted a stay of its order until the supreme court could rule. The NAACP also wants this stay voided.

The supreme court, in calling the extraordinary session, invited U. S. Solicitor General J. Lee Rankin to file a brief and take part in the arguments.

As the session of the high tribunal was called, members of the Arkansas state legislature streamed into Little Rock prepared to empower Gov. Orval Faubus to close Central High school if the federal government tries to integrate it for a second year.

Cross Burned Near Wisconsin Resort

New Auburn.—A 7-foot cross was burned near a New Auburn summer resort that had admitted a Negro couple as guests.

The incident occurred early Aug. 3, but gained no public attention until Robert Witte, student pastor at Trinity Lutheran church, Eau Claire, mentioned it Sunday in a sermon.

Mrs. John Gordon, who with her husband operates the resort on Lower Long lake near New Auburn, said the cross was thrust into or against the resort fence. She said she and her husband were awakened by car horns about 1:30 a. m. and saw the blazing cross. It was made of tamarack sticks wrapped with oil-soaked rags.

Heavy Bombardment Over Weekend Causes Fears Of Invasion Attempt

BY SPENCER MOOSA

Taipei, Formosa.—The Chinese communists today slackened off their attacks on the offshore Quemoy and Tan islands after a week-end of massive bombardment and air and sea activity that aroused fears it was the curtain raiser for red invasion.

The nationalists reported turning back a seaborne communist attempt to seize the island outpost of Tungting, 17 miles south of Quemoy, last night.

Chiang Kai-shek's forces also claimed their planes shot down two MIG17s in a dog fight over Quemoy last night between 48 MIGs and an undisclosed number of nationalist jets. It was the largest number of communist planes so far reported in action at one time over the Formosa strait.

After plastering the islands with nearly 80,000 artillery shells Saturday and Sunday in the heaviest barrage of the vest-pocket war, the guns on the adjacent communist territory fired only 2,880 rounds during a 4-hour bombardment this morning and another 22 shells in as many minutes during the afternoon.

The nationalist defense ministry said the defenders' guns replied vigorously but did not disclose the volume of counter-fire.

U. S. Fleet Alerted
The U. S. defense department ordered the Seventh fleet and other American naval forces in the Far East to take normal precautionary defense measures "in light of the increased activity in the Taiwan (Formosa) straits."

The U. S. Navy also announced that combined U. S.-nationalist Chinese naval exercises would be held early next month to promote "close working relations" between the two forces.

The United States is pledged by treaty to defend Formosa and the neighboring Pescadore islands. As regards Quemoy and the other offshore islands, the Eisenhower administration has followed a policy designed to keep the reds in doubt whether the Seventh fleet would also go into action if the communists tried to take them.

Defense spokesmen said nationalist warships beat back two communist moves toward Tungting. First navy units clashed with four red gunboats and six landing craft. An hour later the nationalists encountered five red gunboats and 30 armed motorized junks.

LSTs Attacked
The defense ministry reported that several communist torpedo boats attacked two nationalist LSTs carrying wounded soldiers from Quemoy. One LST was sunk but all aboard were taken off. The other LST was damaged and ministry said it was towed to safety.

The nationalists said they sank two torpedo boats in a 15-minute clash near Tungting. Three survivors were captured.

A Peiping broadcast claimed the LSTs were taking reinforcements to Quemoy. It said they were first attacked by red shore guns as they were sailing into a bay on Quemoy and that they fled southward and were pursued by torpedo boats.

The red air force, which now boasts Soviet MIG17 fighters, made its first assault on the island bastions at the height of yesterday's bombardment. They followed this up with an 8-plane strafing raid on the islands.

The nationalists said 41,000 shells hit the islands in Saturday's opening barrage, killing or wounding 200 nationalist military personnel. Eleven civilians were killed and 17 wounded by the rain of explosives. The defense ministry said red batteries lobbed in 36,500 shells yesterday.

The previous record bombardment was 9,385 rounds that hit Quemoy on June 24, 1957.

Alaska to Decide on Statehood Tuesday

Most Forecasts Expect 2 to 1 Margin for Joining Union; 19 and 20-Year-Olds Have Vote

BY WILLIAM J. TOBIN

Juneau, Alaska — A generation of debate on the merits of statehood for Alaska will be settled tomorrow at the polls.

A "yes" vote — on three separate referendum propositions — would mean creation of the new state probably in late December or early January. Actual admission will come with the issuance of a presidential proclamation after the results are in from a general election in November.

Most forecasts were that statehood would carry by at least a 2-1 majority of the more than 35,000 ballots that are expected to be cast in the territory's 297 polling places. For the first time in Alaska, 19 and 20 year old residents will be among those voting.

Predict 5 to 1 Margin Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton, the administration's leading spokesman for Alaska, arrived in the territory Saturday. His prediction was that statehood would be approved by better than 5-1.

Candidates seeking nomination in Alaska's first primary election for state offices, after campaign swings throughout the vast territory were predicting no more than a 3-1 approval of statehood.

Opposition to the end of territorial status has come largely from residents who fear new and higher taxes will be required to support a state government.

Many federal employees in the territory also have expressed fears that statehood would bring an end to a 25 percent cost of living allowance they now receive for working in Alaska.

The statehood act becomes void if any one of three referendum propositions fails to win approval tomorrow.

The first of the three is the key to admission. Voters will answer yes or no to the question: "Shall Alaska immediately be admitted into the union as a state?"

The second accepts the present territorial boundaries as the boundaries of the new state. The third would accept 103,350,000 acres of public land for the state and would authorize military land withdrawals in time of national emergency.

Nov. 25 Election For the first time, Alaskans will be voting for officials seeking elective offices of governor and secretary of state. In addition, candidates will be nominated for two U. S. senate seats and one seat in the U. S. house.

If statehood carries in the referendum, a general election to name the first state officials will be held Nov. 25.

The first bill in congress calling for statehood was introduced more than 22 years ago.

Statehood supporters say it will be that long before another admission bill would have a chance in congress — if statehood fails at the polls this year.

Court Delays Hurt Rights, Warren Says

Legal Process Needs Speeding, Justice Tells Convention

Los Angeles — Chief Justice Earl Warren said today that interminable and unjustifiable court delays are compromising the basic legal rights of thousands of Americans.

These delays, Warren said, are corroding the very foundations of constitutional government in the United States.

The chief justice, delivering the keynote address at the American Bar association's 81st annual convention, said that realization of legal remedies is painfully slow for many people. He said:

"And to the extent that this is so, there is created a disrespect for law at a time when everyone should be continually conscious of the fundamental principle that it is primarily the law and its adequate enforcement which makes liberty possible."

"Our entire system of government is on trial," Warren said, "not only as to its ability to meet problems to the satisfaction of our people but, also, to convince the world... that under free institutions which grow and develop without compulsion, there can be efficiency and dispatch in the handling of all the far-flung controversies involving human affairs."

"Therefore, I urge that we make the improvement of justice the great central cause of our profession."

The former California governor said lawyers and judges must relate their responsibilities to the orderly and effective administration of justice in its broadest terms.

Backlog of 70,000 U. S. district courts are saddled with a backlog of 70,000 cases, Warren said — enough to keep all district judges busy for more than a year even if not another case is filed.

"And the situation is rapidly growing worse."

Nearly 40 per cent of all civil cases in federal courts are subject to from one to four years' delay between dates of issue and trial, Warren said.

"The principal reason for these problems," he said, "is that our judicial systems — both state and federal — have 'just grown up like toadstools' without proper organization and administration planning."

Basic Structure Sound The basic structure of the United States judiciary is sound, Warren said.

"But in striking contrast there is the hodge-podge development of the managerial aspects of handling the business of the courts and the snail's pace at which we have devised sound administrative techniques to meet new demands and changing conditions," Warren said.

"The result, quite candidly, is that our federal judicial system is largely barren of the modern concepts which are so familiar and so much in use in the executive departments of government and in private business," Warren said. "Much of the same type of development has characterized our state judicial systems."

Fate of Explorer V Unknown by Scientists

Satellite Failed to Orbit Despite Normal Functioning of 4-Stage Rocket

Cape Canaveral, Fla. — What happened to Explorer V?

The fate of the latest potential American satellite still was an apparent mystery today despite another stellar performance by the army's "old reliable" Jupiter-C rocket.

Explorer V — the heaviest U. S. moon launched at 371 pounds — transmitted its eerie signal only briefly after liftoff at 1:17 a. m. Sunday.

Army scientists studied telemetry data received from the spectacular flight in an effort to determine what happened.

They know that the launching ran smoothly. All four stages of the complex Jupiter-C functioned normally, boosting the satellite to the 18,000 m.p.h. velocity needed to plot it into orbit.

Monitor Signal A clear explorer signal was monitored for seven minutes at Ft. Monmouth, N. J. It gradually faded away. Six hours later the defense department announced the satellite was not in orbit.

U. S. district courts are saddled with a backlog of 70,000 cases, Warren said — enough to keep all district judges busy for more than a year even if not another case is filed.

"And the situation is rapidly growing worse."

Kierdorf Due To Appear in Death Inquiry

Pontiac, Mich. — Former convict and Teamster union man Herman Kierdorf was due for another court appearance today in an offshoot of his nephew's human torch death investigation.

Kierdorf, 68, former business agent of the union, also had a date to appear as a witness in Washington before the senate rackety committee. But he was giving precedence to the court hearing.

The charge against him is illegal possession of a pistol silencer.

Police found the silencer in possession of a neighbor of Herman's after he had disappeared while the death of his nephew, Frank Kierdorf, 54, a Teamster business agent, was under inquiry.

After 13 days of absence Herman returned voluntarily, refusing to say where he had spent the time.

The police say Frank got his burns in setting fire to a dry cleaning shop in Flint, Mich., Aug. 3. He died four days later.

Herman, free on $25,000 bond in the pistol silencer case, insists he has no direct knowledge of how Frank got his burns. He has repeatedly said he does not believe the police story.

Plane Out of Gas Flies Under Bridge

Los Angeles — A light plane pilot on a Sunday flight over the downtown section made an unpleasant discovery: The plane was out of gas.

Gliding for a dead stick landing on the dry Los Angeles river bed, Robert Thorne had another rude shock: He didn't have enough altitude to clear the 75-foot high Olympic boulevard bridge.

So he flew under the pilings, and made a dandy landing on the river bed. After refueling, he and passenger Ed Sobata took off for a nearby airport.

9-Hour Fire Burns Part Of Turkish Resort City

Bursa, Turkey — A fire believed touched off by a short circuit raged for nine hours in this resort city Sunday, razing more than 1,000 shops, houses and medieval mosques. No casualties were reported.

Turkish air force planes with demolition charges fought the blaze along with more than 100 firefighting units from nearby cities. The 15th century Beyazid bazaar, a noted tourist attraction, was in the burned area.

Expect Swart to Be New South African Leader

Will Continue Policy of White Supremacy Begun by Strijdom

Capetown, South Africa — South Africa's cabinet is expected to name stern-

Swart faced Justice Minister Charles R. Swart to succeed white supremacist Johannes G. Strijdom as prime minister.

Strijdom died early yesterday of a heart ailment. He was 65 and had been ill for some weeks.

Swart, now acting prime minister, was seen as the logical choice to take over. He was considered a certainty for leader of the ruling nationalist party — champion of segregation — which he helped found.

An uncompromising segregationist, Swart became justice minister 10 years ago. Since then, he has put through parliament some of the most controversial legislation in the country's history.

In 1950, he rammed through the immorality act, which bans African-white sexual relations, and the suppression of communism act. Recently, he set up a tribunal to hear the mass treason trial of 92 persons accused of trying to convert South Africa into a communist state. The defendants claimed they only sought an end to apartheid — the policy of white supremacy and strict segregation.

Swart also won approval of a bill which makes armed robbery punishable by death. Born in the Orange Free State in 1894, Swart spent the Boer war in a British concentration camp with his mother.

After graduating from Grey university in Bloemfontein with a law degree at 20, he spent some time in the United States. In America he worked as a reporter, Hollywood film extra and teacher.

Strijdom led his national party to victory in last April's general elections, giving it another five years in power. Strijdom's segregationist and nationalist policies were certain to continue. A devotee of apartheid, he claimed that the whites were to remain units from nearby cities. The 15th century Beyazid bazaar, a noted tourist attraction, was in the burned area.

State Fair Closes With Fourth Largest 9-Day Crowd in 107 Showings

Total Attendance Is 773,589; Expect $98,000 Profit for Year

Milwaukee — Despite cool weather Sunday evening, the Wisconsin State fair closed with the fourth largest 9-day crowd in 107 years.

Sunday's estimated crowd of 92,000 raised the 1958 fair's cumulative total to 773,589, which is about 45,000 higher than the attendance last year.

The closing total was short of the 819,210 who visited the fair in 1951, the 824,311 in 1953 and the 778,536 fairgoers in 1956.

A grandstand crowd of 23,178 Sunday contributed $25,400 to the purse for the annual state fair 200-mile auto race, won by Rodger Ward of Los Angeles.

Chilly weather Sunday evening cut the attendance at the Roy Rogers cowboy show to 8,124 paid customers. However Rogers played to more than 112,000 customers during the entire fair. That is more than twice the attendance at last year's night grandstand show.

$98,000 Profit Officials of the fair estimated Sunday that the show's gross revenues would exceed $938,000, providing a profit of more than $98,000. This compared with 1957 figures of $770,000 gross and about $56,000 profits.

Livestock judging at the fair ended Saturday. George Ducklow, 18, Oconomowoc, won the premier breeder banner for Oxford sheep. The award goes to the exhibitor who wins the most money with his various entries. Ducklow won the award when he garnered exactly $1 more in prizes than the rival McKarrow farm of Pewaukee.

Graber Farm of Mineral Point showed the reserve grand champion Berkshire sow. Rahn Malting company showed the reserve senior sow. Whitmoreland Farm of Burlington had the junior champion Berkshire sow and the reserve grand champion sow.

Tells Convention Teaching Field In Bad Situation

Milwaukee — The president of the American Federation of Teachers said today that the teaching profession is "in an intolerable situation in which the final analysis, school children are the victims."

Carl J. Megel of Chicago made the statement in a speech at the organization's 42nd annual convention.

"Ten to 15 per cent of the nation's qualified teachers now quit annually," Megel said, "many to have their places taken by the unqualified."

He said it is time to stop experimenting with "teaching nostrums and panaceas, mass education by television and staff-disrupting merit rating for teachers."

Convention delegates were urged by Megel to make salaries, tenure and bargaining their major objectives this coming year.

"No other profession is subjected to so little protection and security as now given teachers," he said.

"We must start improving our teaching staffs by requiring that every new teacher have at least a four-year teaching degree."

Lawrence Says: 85th Congress Was Worst In Half Century

Didn't Curb Reds,

In Big Labor Unions

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — The 85th congress, just adjourned, has by its inaction and failure to deal with vitally needed legislation turned out to be the worst in a half century. For the congress has not passed any of the proposed laws to curb communist infiltration in the United States during the cold war crisis. It has not passed any laws to punish those who openly preach the overthrow of our

4-Year-Old DePere Girl Killed by Falling Slide

De Pere — A 4-year-old girl died of a ruptured liver Sunday after a playground-type metal slide toppled sideways and fell on her. The child was Roberta Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parker of the town of De Pere. Her father is farm director of television station WBAY-TV in Green Bay. Brown County Coroner Dr. Cletus Belisle said the slide was tipped over accidentally by other children playing with Roberta in the yard of a home near the Parkers' residence.

"The congress, especially in the senate, has been turned into a vote-trading operation. Legislative juggling has managed to kill important bills by delaying them to the last minute. "Spending by this congress has been fantastic... Spending started out as a depression cure, but soon this was thrown aside and without pretense. The Democrats plunged into vast election-year buying of voter groups of all kinds. Many Republicans felt they had to go along or be defeated."

Radiation Puts Blush Into Apples

Montreal—(U)—Nuclear radiation may give rosier cheeks to a tasty but slightly pale apple.

Dr. C. J. Bishop, head of Canada's experimental farm in Kentville, N.S., told the international congress of genetics about it. He said it will be five to seven years before the rosier apple can be raised on a tree and compared with existing varieties to see if it is commercially worthwhile.

"The courtland is a leading Canadian apple but it is somewhat lacking in color," Dr. Bishop explained. "We launched an extensive research program designed to induce color."

"X-rays were used, and thermal neutrons from an atomic pile, in co-operation with the Brookhaven national laboratory on Long Island. Brookhaven did the work and we provided apple scions—new shoots—for them to radiate. Then we did the grafting in Kentville."

The result is a complete change to dark red apples on some branches. These are to be propagated to make several complete trees.

"Out of this may come a fine looking apple which will retain the qualities of the courtland, a good dual purpose (eating and cooking) ap-

APPLETON-NEENAH

Introducing Alice Cowan

Fine Staging of Williams Play Concludes Attic Theater Season

BY JAY JOSLYN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Welcome, Mrs. Cowan! May your stay in the Fox Cities be long and your association with the Attic theater continue to be fruitful.

The Fox Cities' community theater is closing its summer season with Tennessee Williams' "Summer and Smoke" and introducing Mrs. Wavell Cowan in the demanding lead role.

The Williams exposition on the struggle between spiritual and physical love affords a brilliant setting for a demonstration of histrionic skill and Mrs. Ted Cloak had the good fortune of having Mrs. Cowan to lead a fine cast.

Range of Emotions
Mrs. Cowan has the part of the ballerina prima who dazzles with a wide range of emotions, moving from contact to contact, adding to the spotlight her own intensity.

The rest of the cast is a sort of corps re ballet forming contrasting patterns and rhythms to enhance her skill and artistry.

Giving her close support and meaning to her efforts is Marshall Granros. His is a difficult job of restraint, of being a forceful presence without intruding, of controlling the direction without interfering. No dancer had a more subtle yet masterful partner than actress Alice Cowan has in Marshall Granros.

"Summer and Smoke" is an outstanding and fitting finale to a successful season for the Attic theater and another perfect example of theater in the round.

Splits Arena
Ted Cloak, the production manager, split the arena stage into three sections and used spotlights to change the many scenes with good dramatic effect.

The play won high critical acclaim when it was premiered in Margo Jonse's pioneer arena theater in Dallas, but failed to register anything more than a moderate success on Broadway.

It is another of Williams' studies of southern womanhood. It doesn't have the tender insight of "Glass Menagerie" or the tense violence of "Streetcar Called Desire."

Alma Winemiller is a minister's daughter so tied up in the struggle between body and soul that her personality has been warped.

Unhealthy Household
Her homelife is far from conducive to mental health. Her mother, played with gentle insight by Fran Bubolz, is a long-time victim of a nervous breakdown and her father, portrayed by John Nygren, is an adequate pastor with little depth.

Her friends are the town's self-appointed intelligentsia played by Steve Jolin, Alja Zempurs and Marion Smith. The latter stepped into the substantial role at the last moment and did a commendable job.

Wavell Cowan, the Puckish Sgt. Rough of "Angel Street," turns in a wonderful job as her myopic, introverted French horn playing, Sunday school superintendent gentleman friend who is dominated by his over-active mother.

In the next door household revolving about the goatish son just back from medical school is Miss Alma's kindly doctor, sympathetically played by Henry Ashauer.

Despite the surroundings of honor and service, the young doctor takes his pleasures at a river side casino and the sullied charms of a Mexican dancer, played by Neal Dohr.

The two worlds clash when Rosa's father, portrayed by Thomas McGuire, shoots the old doctor.

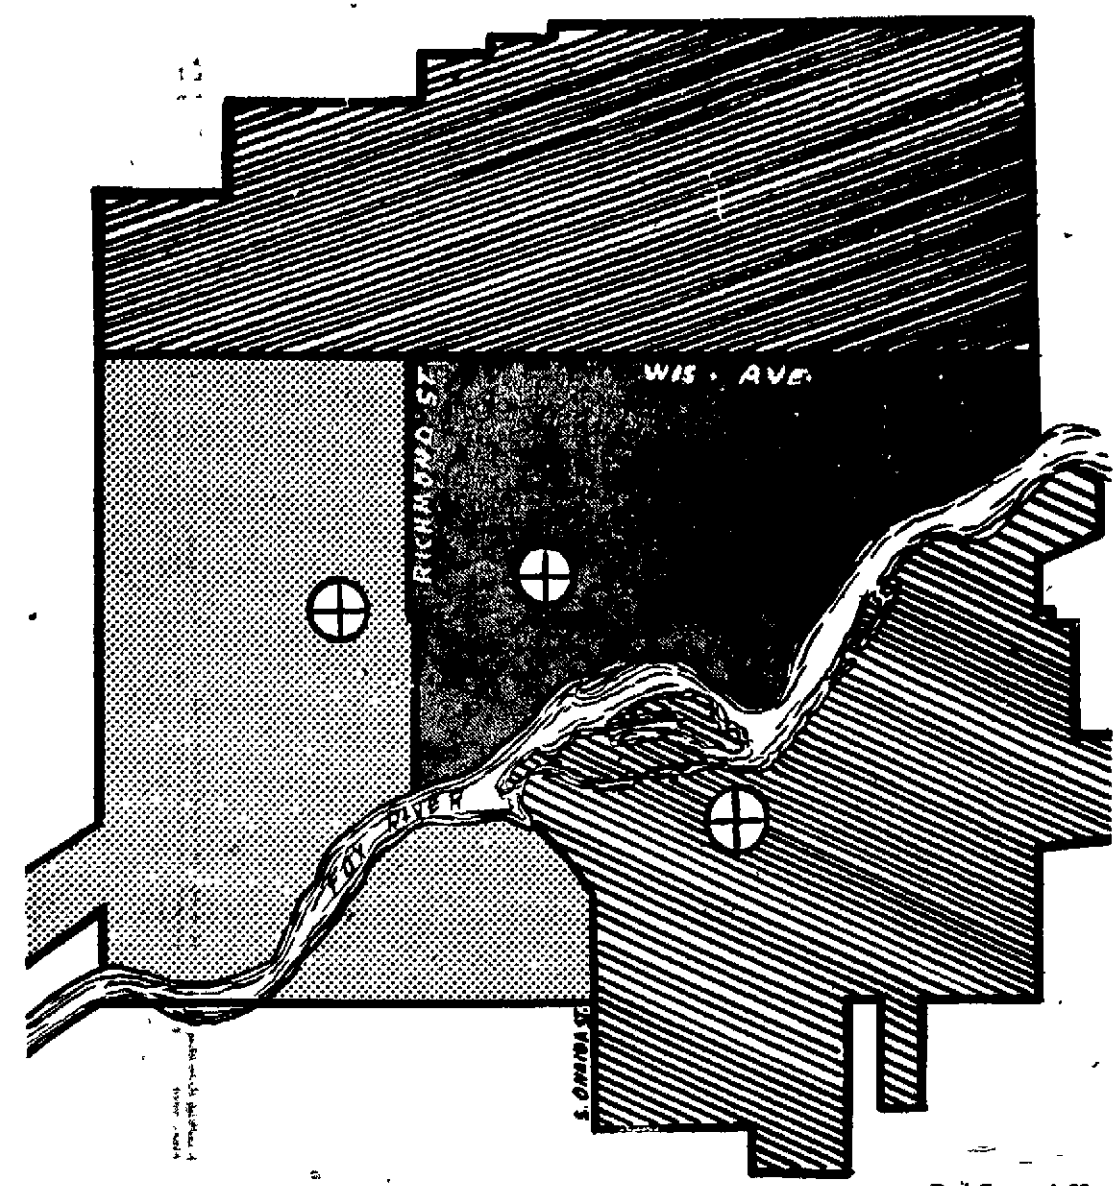

The unrewarding conclusion of Williams' tale has the doctor reject Alma's frank surrender in favor of a singing student of hers with a bad background. She in turn offers herself to a stranger, played by Maurice Stack.

The performance and the staging are the real attractions in the arena off Pierce park tonight and next weekend. Both have fireworks in them. The acting pyrotechnics are Mrs. Cowan's. The stag- ing flares are by courtesy of lighting men Bruce Chapman and Dick Vyse.

Mrs. Cloak, in her note to the audience, suggests the possibility of a winter season for the Attic. A production like the current one is a per- suasive argument for such a venture.

The play will show again tonight and on Saturday, Sun- day and next Monday nights at 8:15 at Jefferson school gymnasium.

This Is How the City Will be divided into fire districts when a neighborhood station is constructed on the far north side, Chief Paul Neumann reports. The circled crosses mark locations of present stations, one at N. Oneida street and Washington street, a second south of the river at S. Lawe street and E. Lincoln street and the third at W. College avenue and N. Badger avenue. A north side site is sought.

Our State Population

A pictorial section of the most recent report of the state division of vital statistics discloses a significant fact about the population trends of our state. It is one that commands the attention of those of our politicians who are forever prating in generalities about the economic and industrial development of Wisconsin.

It shows that the population gains of Wisconsin in recent periods have been almost wholly due to natural increases — that is to say, the increases of births over deaths.

There used to be another factor accounting for population gains. It was migration. The movement of people from other parts of the country into our boundaries was once as important, and sometimes more important, than the natural increases. But the migration factor has been declining in importance for a long time and today is scarcely visible. We might guess, indeed, that Wisconsin is exporting more people to other sections of the country than it is attracting.

Other states of the country are gaining steadily through migration — including some that are more natural competitors than Florida and California and other regions of salubrious climate where attractions other than economic come into play. Wisconsin at best has shown a static position lately.

All this is not to say, of course, that there are not healthy population gains within the state. Our own Fox River Valley, for example, has been gaining in a degree as spectacular as that of any community of comparable size in Wisconsin.

The migration of population is inextricably linked with economic growth and health. People move because of job and business opportunities. People leave when those opportunities are contracting, or seem, inferior to those prevailing elsewhere.

The challenge of our own industrial development problem is inherent in the population statistics, although the men who progress to leadership positions in the state seem unable to address themselves realistically to the facts. Political debate repeats the obvious. Some of our politicians spend all of their time disputing what they claim are not the reasons for the state's static situation. We would wish they would devote themselves to a positive approach, to developing the reasons that may be, and to action to remove or relieve them.

Firms Note the Flight from Dollar; People Losing Faith in Currency

From the Wall Street Journal

One of the more puzzling things around Wall street these days has been the sharp upward march of the stock market in the face of lower earnings, reduced and sometimes omitted dividends. And as brokers, economists and other commentators seek an explanation, we hear more and more often a very ominous phrase.

A few examples will illustrate many. The E. F. Hutton company thinks the rising stock market and declining bond market "underscore the flight from the dollar." Reynolds and company comments that last week "the flight from the dollar, which has been gathering momentum in recent weeks turned into a stampede."

The same note is struck across the country. Wayne Hummer and company of Chicago observes that the "answer can be that investors have more confidence in the future value of stocks than they have in the dollar's stability." And the market comment of Daniel Reeves and company of Beverly Hills is both pointed and poignant: "It is sad but true that few people any longer believe that our currency can ever be worth more in terms of buying power and most likely will ultimately be worth considerably less."

Now admittedly many market comments are not necessarily compendiums of wisdom. Still, brokerage houses are by the nature of their business close to people who are concerned about how to manage their savings for an uncertain future. And when they note, with so much unanimity, such a strong feeling of fear about the dollar then it is surely time to pay attention.

In this instance, too, the feeling is confirmed by the figures on what people are doing. The bond market, including the market for obligations of the U.S. government, has been depressed. Plainly the generality of people do not want to lend money to their government. They know the government will pay them back dollar for dollar with interest. What they fear is that they will be paid with eroded dollars.

Moreover, the economic figures from Washington suggest that the people's fears are not unfounded.

The already huge government debt is again being lifted; the deficit this year alone will be twelve billion dollars or more. Getting the money for this deficit would be a terrible problem anytime. With a country already in financial straits, it is almost an insurmountable problem. The treasury is very likely to find that it can borrow little, or nothing from the public savings; it may well have to turn to the Federal Reserve to create all the necessary credit dollars in the banking system. And almost everyone knows nowadays that this is just a fancy way of printing money.

Finally — and this is the saddest part of all — the political facts of Washington suggest that nobody is going to do anything about it. The president warns sternly about the dangers of inflation, and approves a budget that can only make more inflation. Congressmen talk sorrowfully about the terrible things that inflation does to people, particularly the little people, and casually build the budget bigger.

The basic problem of inflation is not new. But what is suggested by these scattered and independent market reports is that the people may be developing a new attitude toward it. There is a strong suggestion that people generally are beginning to abandon hope that those appointed to manage their government will halt inflation, an implication that the country may come to accept the rotting of the dollar as being as inevitable as death and taxes.

And that is why we think Washington had better heed the ominous tone in these reports. For though this country has suffered from its past inflations, all those troubles will be as nothing to what we shall have to bear if the people, privately and quietly, once get it into their minds that they can no longer put any trust for the future in the dollars of the United States.

12 Weeks of School Compulsory

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Aug. 30, 1879.

The compulsory school law goes into effect next week, and it behooves parents to heed its requirements.

In brief, the statute requires all guardians of children between the ages of seven and fifteen years to furnish them instruction at least twelve weeks in each year, unless excused by the board on account of physical disability.

It does not require parents to send a child to any particular school, but the twelve weeks of instruction the child must have, or heavy penalties follow the neglect.

25 YEARS AGO

Monday, August 21, 1933

Appleton swung into the National Recovery campaign over the weekend with enthusiasm characteristic of this community when called upon for patriotic duty. William E. Buchanan, director of the efforts of a large number of workers, announces that the survey of employers to determine their status under the NRA regulations would be completed by the end of the week.

C. C. Bailey, boys' work secretary of the Y.M.C.A., and Phil Ottman, a member of the state young men's committee, went to Chicago for a conference on young men's work.

St. Mary Holy Name softball team won the Holy Name championship of the city at the first annual Appleton Holy Name Council picnic.

H. O. Haugh was appointed to an advisory committee in Menasha to handle the sale of football tickets for University of Wisconsin football games that fall.

10 YEARS AGO

Monday, August, 23, 1948

An Outagamie county Im-mell for Governor club was organized over the weekend. Officers were Orville Muenster, chairman; Robert McGilligan, vice chairman; and Robert Schmidt, secretary and treasurer.

Jack Hayes and Paul Ger-ris triumphed in the semi-finals of the championship flight in the second annual recreation department city

Under the Capitol Dome

Democrats May Get Burned by State Debt

Madison — The Democrats have kicked up a good deal of dust about the Republican state administration's record of new insitution building and the financial methods involved, but it may be doubted that the public enlightenment has been much improved thereby.

Wyngaard

The story of the state building corporation devices that have been contrived to provide school buildings and others with borrowed money in spite of the constitutional prohibition against state bonded debt is a complex one.

To illustrate, there are not more than a dozen members of the legislature who could make a reasonably brief and accurate explanation of the system. The details in this issue — if any issue it is — are not especially important. What Sen. Nelson is trying to do, in his challenge of Gov. Thomson, is to appeal to the conservative Wisconsin electorate by hammering home the fact that the state is going into debt in spite of the public impression, and at an accelerating pace.

THE DIFFICULTY

The difficulty is that Nelson and his partisan associates have found that hard ground to stand on.

Anticipating the obvious counterattack, Nelson and his associates declared themselves in favor of a straight-out bonded debt system as more honest and more economical. Moreover, the Democratic candidate couldn't risk the appearance, in the eyes of the considerable pressure groups interested in the expansion of the University of Wisconsin and the state colleges, for example, of opposing their capital expansion to meet the demands of their ever-increasing enrollments.

Now it may be doubted that the average elector is able or disposed to quibble about one form of state borrowing and its advantages or disadvantages over another.

For the sake of submitting a fairly esoteric issue to the voters in an apathetic summer season, the Democrats have now put themselves in to a position no party and no candidate for high state office has ever espoused before — a position endorsing a repeal or modification of the historic anti-debt clause of the state constitution.

For persons of conservative bent, this may be a more dangerous attitude than the acknowledged oblique debt making of the Republicans.

The Republican administration building corporation device carries its own rigid limits. No more money can be borrowed than the bond buyer wants to invest according to the probable earning capacity of the self-liquidating buildings.

DANGERS

But where would the limit be if the constitution is amended?

Sen. Nelson and the others who stand on this ground have not yet said. But they will be required to say, if this debate has any meaning.

And whatever line they draw will be challenged by those who will doubt that they can hold it. Once the dike is broken, can the rush of other spending demands be resisted? Can one spending pressure be accommodated, realistically and politically, and another denied? Will the amendment in 1959 be a precedent for others to follow? In short, can a principle which the state has upheld during its whole history be successfully divided or modified?

The Democrats are playing with fire. It would appear, and stand in fearful risk of getting a painful scorching.

Paperbacks — The Bargains Of Book Trade

From The Wisconsin Magazine Of History

The same magnetism that drew small boys of a previous generation to the fish-bowls of marbles in the five-and-ten now draws more than $65,000,000 annually to the racks of colorfully paperback books so promiscuously available in more than 100,000 retail outlets. With marbles and paperbacks pride of possession may be fleeting, but both powerfully stimulate a consciousness of economy and utility; even those too young or preoccupied to understand the economy of mass production instinctively recognize a bargain when they see one. But there are also scholars, such as those of the historical brotherhood who study marbles and play with books, to whom paperbacks imply compromise and surrender of moral principles.

Paperbacks are the bargain basement of the book trade, offering intrinsic values substantially equivalent to those of the swanky floors upstairs but at a fraction of the price.

A Reason for Haste

There's good reason for haste.

Like a beautiful but fickle woman, summer is about to fade into eternity and when she's gone you'll wonder why you didn't enjoy her more.

This is the lush time. Wisconsin, all green and gold, is waiting and summer, the beautiful woman, has primed and preened and is at her prettiest.

When August's heat hangs thick and heavy and you have to struggle for each breath, take a ride in the country but don't just drive. Look around. There's a picture story here in the Fox river valley and northeastern Wisconsin unequalled on film or canvas.

And you won't have to go far.

Try County Trunk C and go north toward Seymour. The black ribbon of road writhes like a slender snake between golden fields of grain and waving acres of corn.

But you won't see it all from your car window. Stop in an open stretch or by a bridge. You won't feel the dead heat any more and there's a fragrance in the air.

You'll see a rabbit scurry into the brush or you may be startled by the raucous cackle of a pheasant as it bursts from its hiding place.

Or, if you will, drive along the shores of Lake Winnebago. Here is nature's air conditioning at its best. The trees yawn and stretch skyward in an attitude of adoration.

In the end, however, it doesn't really matter where you go because summer has wrapped her arms around all of Wisconsin and the transformation is something to behold. If only we don't close our eyes to it.

There's serene and stately beauty in a field of shocked grain; there's a feeling of dignity and righteousness in the clatter of a combine as it moves relentlessly against a tide of gold; there's joy in the song of a bird; there's serenity in the clouds which drift overhead.

There is so much to see and enjoy and so little time remaining.

Summer, the beautiful woman, is waiting but you'd better hurry. Tomorrow she may be gone.

Traffic Problems Need Action By Governments

From the Frederic Wilcox County Leader

Early last month we celebrated the signing of the Declaration of Independence — a timeless document which proclaimed the right of the people to institute their own government, "laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness."

Although recognizing that representative government should serve as protector of the people's safety, the signers of the Declaration could not possibly have foreseen the 20th century's traffic accident problem. Wisconsin, a remote wilderness in 1776, counted 919 persons killed and 26,642 injured in traffic accidents in 1957.

New dangers demand new defensive measures, and there are encouraging signs that our citizens are demanding appropriate action by local, county and state governments. A total of 38 separate awards were received by Wisconsin cities and by the state itself for traffic safety activities during 1957.

But as the problem grows, we must continue to demand and support sound official safety measures — time-honored and necessary functions of good government since our nation was born.

Communication Is Life Line

Scott Cutler, in Wisconsin Magazine of History

A system of disseminating reliable, accurate information without censorship to all our citizens is a requisite for an effective democracy. Real communication represents the only means whereby by people and organizations can do business with those removed and remote from face-to-face relationship; the only means whereby we can achieve the co-ordination and co-operation to make our complex assembly-line society function at all. Only with communication can there be community; without community there can be only conflict — or chaos. Communication represents the life line of our time.

question on CBS-TV's "The $64,000 Challenge" pushed him past young Strom to win a million dollars. Nadler, 49, then went on to make it $252,000 before time ran out. He will return to the program next Sunday. The $60,000 question was in the ancient history category. Defeated by Nadler was Mrs. Dolores Brown, a New York City housewife. Nadler comes from St. Louis. The newly crowned champion TV quiz contestant added $2,000 by defeating David H. Engel, a landscape artist with a master's degree in international relations. They tied in a series about geography.

wano county town road about one quarter mile over the Outagamie county line seven miles north of Seymour about 4:20 Sunday morning.

According to Shawano County Patrolman Sandy Montour, Tank apparently fell asleep at the wheel and lost control of the car. He was traveling south. Deputy Coroner Louis Hoeffs, Shawano, said Tank died instantly. His death was the sixteenth on Shawano county roads this year.

Harold Foley, living near the accident site, heard the crash and called police.

State Road Deaths

The two area deaths brought the state's weekend traffic toll to five and increased the year's total of highway deaths to 490, compared with 535 on this date last year.

Victims of separate accidents in Chippewa county Sunday night were Mrs. George Gerrits, 42, of Stanley, and Oscar Nyseth, about 45, of route 1, Chippewa Falls. Mrs. Gerrits was killed when a sports car in which she was riding veered off a county road and overturned 1½ miles west of Stanley. Nyseth was killed when he was hit by an automobile as he walked along Highway 53 in the city of Bloomer.

Ronald Zar, 18, route 1, Ashland, a sailor home on leave, was killed Saturday night when his auto struck a bridge abutment on a Douglas county road near Lake Nebagamon.

and rousing navy band welcomed her back to U.S. soil. The Nautilus set a record on her passage here from England.

Last night, the submarine passed Ambrose lightship, outside New York harbor and off the southern coast of Long Island, with a new trans-Atlantic speed record of 6½ days for underwater craft.

The Nautilus surfaced twice in making the trip from Portland, England, in 6 days, 11 hours and 55 minutes. This cut almost 2 days off the 8½-day record set by her sister atomic submarine, the Skate.

Water-spewing fireboats, destroyer escorts, helicopters and planes were out to greet the underwater craft at the start of the 3-day New York welcome.

Also ordered out for a marine parade on the Hudson river was an old friend, the navy blimp Snow Goose, a fellow Arctic traveler. The blimp made a polar flight about the time the Nautilus was crossing under the icepack.

Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, a pioneer in the development of atomic submarines, boarded the Nautilus in the Narrows at 8 a. m. Rickover, president Eisenhower's personal representative for the arrival ceremonies, went aboard from a navy tugboat.

Rickover was accompanied by Rear Adm. Chester C. Wood, commandant of the Third Naval district and commander of the Brooklyn Navy base.

Rickover will remain on the sub during its sail up the Hudson and return down the river to dockside ceremonies at the navy yard in Brooklyn. There, the Nautilus' skipper, Cmdr. William R. Anderson, and the crew were to be reunited with their families.

Navy Secretary Thomas S. Gates was among the official welcoming party for the dockside ceremonies.

ually contending Republicans and Democrats.

In the house, Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts offered a resolution praising Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Texas) for the way he presided over the house. Rayburn returned the compliment.

A committee that notified for a variety of independent

President Eisenhower congress had finished its business brought back the president's "best wishes to Mr. Sam," as Rayburn is called.

In the senate, Republican Leader William F. Knowland of California got a warm send-off. He is retiring from the senate to run for governor of his home state.

Mutual Praise

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas called Knowland "a man of integrity—one of my best personal friends." Knowland spoke of his "great personal affection" for Johnson.

In the final hours of the session, congress finished work on two other big money bills. One provided $6,090,156,900 for a variety of independent federal agencies. Eisenhower had vetoed an earlier version which contained $600 million earmarked for the civil service retirement fund. Eisenhower said this was not needed, particularly in a year in which the government faces a heavy deficit.

The bill re-passed by congress is without the civil service allotment, but has several new items approved by the administration. One of these is a $40-million fund to finance the start of a 4-year, $900 million aid to education program which got final congressional approval earlier in the day.

The other money bill sent to Eisenhower on the last day was a $1,354,000,000 measure for military construction projects.

Some legislation fell by the wayside.

The house killed a senate-passed bill that called for a 10 per cent increase in retirement benefits for railroad workers.

Left stranded when the senate adjourned was a compromise bill designed to modify the impact of a supreme court decision which reversed the conviction of a confessed rapist here because of police de-

Remember his first great adventure?

With full heart and watchful eyes you helped him enjoy his very first taste of independence.

And how proud you were when he achieved his goal, all by himself, and then, laughing, ran to your waiting arms to share his triumph with you!

Nothing you can give your child is half so precious as this wonderful opportunity to be himself. All through life you want him to be free to choose his way.

That's why it's so important to be on the watch for ideas or ideologies that could set limits to his independence. The idea, for instance, that government should own and run more and more businesses, services, institutions. Don't forget that when government runs more and more things, the individual has less and less freedom and independence!

Think of your son's first "independence day" when you hear talk like that. Point out that in countries where government does control almost everything, the individual is controlled, also. And the loss of anybody's independence is a threat to everybody's freedom.

Very much aware of this danger are the independent electric light and power companies, because government already runs part of the electric business. Add powerful people are pressing to take over more.

Catholicism May be of Value to Candidates

Tenor of Country Changes Since Al Smith Was Running 30 Years Ago

BY JOSEPH ALSOP

New York — It seems a fair bet New York Democrats will nominate former Atomic Energy Commissioner Thomas Murray for the senate seat being vacated by Irving Ives.

Thomas K. Finletter wants the job very badly, has worked hard to get it, and is superlatively well equipped for it. The real obstacle to Finletter's nomination is the competing candidacy of James A. Farley. This is true despite the fact that Big Jim Farley has very little chance of being nominated himself, because of the old New York state quarrels of the late Roosevelt years.

To be blunt about it, the New York Democrats do not want Big Jim, but because Big Jim is Irish and a Roman Catholic, they do not want to reject Big Jim without recognizing the large voting group of Irish Catholics, who have lately been drifting toward the Republicans. Murray is not only a member of Farley's faith and race; he also is what may be called a silk-curtain Irishman, in the style of Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts. This is another plus. At the moment, moreover, these reasons have a particular interest, going beyond the well-established American habit of composing state tickets in a way that "recognizes" the largest possible number of religious and racial voting groups. In brief, a Roman Catholic is once again a serious candidate for the presidency itself, for the first time in 30 years and for the second time in the entire history of this country.

After prolonged inquiry among the professionals of many states, this reporter has reached the somewhat unorthodox conclusion that the same religious affiliation which so handicapped Al Smith will be a positive advantage to Jack Kennedy.

In the first place the country is still ashamed of the campaign of prejudice that was waged against Smith. If anything of that sort is again attempted, it will win a Catholic candidate more sympathy-votes than it can cost in prejudice - votes.

Secondly, the Protestant American view of the Catholic church has greatly changed in the last three decades. Thirty years ago, for reasons rooted in our political and ethnic past, a great many respectable and conservative people were really troubled because Al Smith was a Catholic. Some of these people countenanced and even aided the prejudice campaign waged against Smith. This gave the campaign an impact it could never have achieved, if it had stayed where it belonged, in the sewers. Thirdly, and perhaps most important of all, the troops who were rallied by the campaign against Smith have all but vanished from the American political scene. In 1928, the organized prohibitionists could command the vote of a large majority of senators and representatives. You have to be getting on a bit to remember how congress used to be intimidated by Wayne B. Wheeler and Mrs. Ella Poole, but these people really did intimidate the congress. They intimidated congress,

Newsman Tells of Blimp Ride to Arctic, Where Living Is Spacious

BY HUGH A. MULLIGAN
Associated Press Writer

Up in the north country, which, to real latitude snobs, means anywhere above the Arctic circle, they say that if you see five men walking together in furry parkas, four of them are bound to be scientists and the fifth an Eskimo to keep them from falling through the ice.

Since the start of the International Geophysical Year, the Eskimos have become accustomed to scientists mucking about in their tundra. But Hugh Mulligan came home last week from a 1,700-mile trip to the Arctic aboard a Navy blimp on which he represented American wire services. Here he reports on his trip.

our blimp was something different. The Eskimos spent as much time looking up at us as we spent looking down at them, and it's hard to say who was the more impressed. The bush radio — Arctic equivalent of a party line — spread the word of our coming up the length of the continents. At every tent, whaling shack and hut, an Eskimo or an Indian family stood in the doorway waving.

Sparse Settlements

But no one on board was in danger of arm cramps. Settlements are frequently 500 miles or more apart in the Arctic, the last stronghold of spacious living. Once you get above the circle, there are whole islands, some bigger than the state of Maine, without human inhabitants.

On a trip like this, you pick up a lot of miscellaneous information that is bound to come in handy, if you can steer the conversation into Arctic channels.

For instance, you learn that nine-tenths of all Arctic lands, with the exception of Greenland, are entirely free of ice and snow in summer. You learn also that a polar bear liver is poisonous (too much vitamin A); that whale meat smells like liver and tastes like Swiss steak, that navy men are excellent poker players (this I learned the hard way), and that Resolute bay has the most northerly flush toilets in the world.

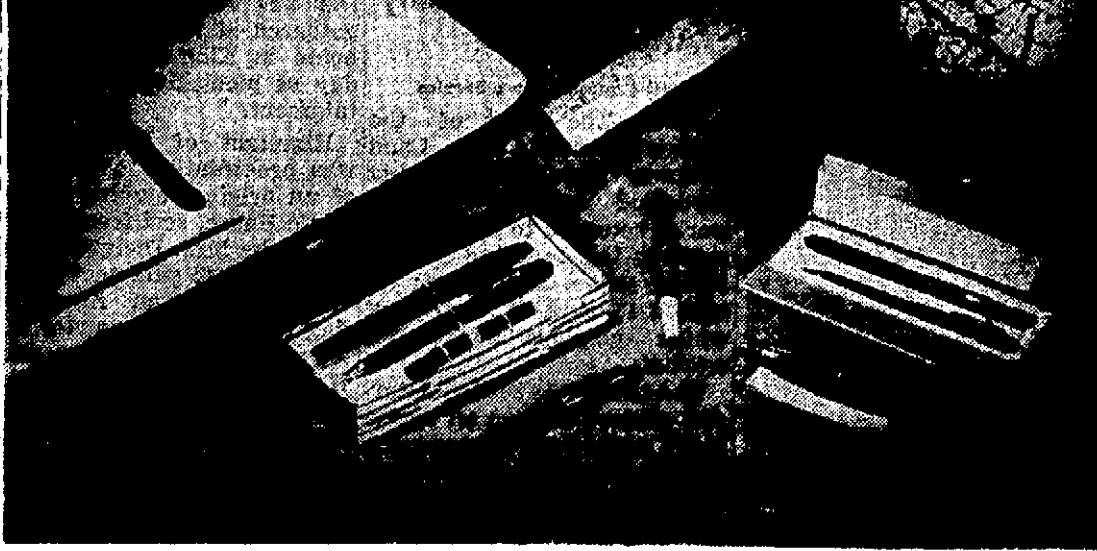

I learned also to type standing up at a radar table because the blimp's wardroom tables usually were taken by cribbage players — when not being used for meals.

If the scenery in the Arctic is fantastic from the slow, low moving blimp, so are the communications. Once I laboriously called an 850-word story over the radio range to Resolute bay, 500 miles behind us, speaking loud and slow enough for the operator to take it down by hand. When I finished, some 25 minutes later, a clipped English accent on the other end cheerfully informed me, "I say, old man, would you mind starting again? I seem to have missed most of it."

At Port Churchill, Manitoba, while reporting on the blimp's several abortive take-offs, I drove five miles by jeep to the Canadian telegraph office, twice found it closed and once arrived as the only operator was off on a coffee break. I tracked him to a cafe a quarter mile away, and tried to impress him with the urgency of newspaper deadlines. "Quite right," he agreed, "I'll be right over." He arrived 40 minutes later.

Another time, at an airfield radio tower, I learned the rateletype operator was at Rouge, La., office, where we did all our own punching, talked the officer in charge in to letting me do the punching. Three years in the Baton Rouge, La., office, where we did all our own punching, seemed like a good investment at that time. I was in the blimp for 78 hours or nearly 3½ days, which ought to be a flight record of some sort for newspapermen. And, by dropping a hand-painted AP flag on T-3, the

Communications Help

Art Bug Bites Middle Class U. S., Interest Grows at Quick Pace

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

New York — Average Americans have discovered art. Typically, they are wrapping it up and taking it home. Undoubtedly, collecting old masters and works of important contemporaries is more than ever the preoccupation of the very rich. But for the first time in the nation's history men and women in more modest circumstances have become interested in oils, watercolors, prints and sculpture.

In increasing numbers, they are buying original works to place over their fireplaces, to decorate their own walls, for their own enjoyment.

The interest has been growing since the early war years. In 1940, about one million people visited the Metropolitan Museum of Art and its Choisters. By 1950 the attendance figure was up to two million. Next year, it will probably reach three million.

New Museums
In the last 15 years, some 300 new museums have opened all over the country. Recently $9,600 worth of paintings, original prints and antique furniture was sold during a 2-day PTA benefit sale in a suburban elementary school. The objects of art were taken on a consignment basis — an increasingly popular fund-raising device.

One of the city's famed auction houses had a small, but choice collection of impressionist and post-impressionist painters to go on the block last month. So many people turned up for an advance look that the auctioneers issued admission tickets for the sale so important buyers — as opposed to art bargain hunters — could be sure of seats.

Rooted in Suburbia
In the writer's own suburban neighborhood — an area of under $30,000 homes — three couples hire sitters one night a week to attend an art appreciation course; four housewives spend an afternoon a week visiting New York's art galleries and museums; one family renovated its living room around an oil landscape; the prize possession of a young telephone executive and his private secretary-wife is print No. 6 of a signed Matisse lithograph. The experts have theories why America has become a little art-mad and, of course, they don't always agree. One logical explanation is that never before have Americans had so much leisure in which to pursue non-commercial interests.

Another undisputed reason is good times. Americans have more money to spend and have been developing a taste for life's luxuries.

Communications
"And never forget communications," cautioned one owner of a small gallery. "The women's magazines have been preaching original art."

Still another expert gives inferior decorators' credit. "There is no disputing that they have done a lot to bring art into average homes," he said. "They've written about art and they've preached art. Of course, I think most of them have a tendency to suggest a picture to fit into some room they've designed. But it has all helped."

Women still come into the gallery and ask for a painting of a certain size and in certain colors, he said. "But nowadays they'll usually explain that they know that it's not the right way to buy a painting," he added. "And I call that progress."

Huge Market
Pictures are popping up in hospitals, industrial plants and business offices. Housewives haunt the auction houses. Local art shows do a brisk business. Many persons buy a favorite picture on the installment plan — $5 or more a week.

The combination of all these forces, including a growing feeling that it is smart to be arty, has made it impossible to estimate the size of today's art market. The big auction houses of New York, Paris and London do an annual business of more than $50 million. Add to this the total business of literally thousands of small and large galleries (200 in New York alone) and direct dealings between painter and client, and it is evident a huge amount of money is changing hands.

A great portion of this business is in art priced at $1,000 or less. It is in this area that the average American is likely to invest. It is art at these

Laona Firm Strike Ends

Operations Resumed At Lumber Company After 34 Days

Post-Crescent News Service

Laona—The plant of the Connor Lumber and Land company here, the largest hardwood sawmill in the world, returned to normal operations this morning after a 34-day strike. Full crews returned to work at the plant which employs about 240 workers.

The strike was settled Saturday afternoon when an agreement worked out by company officials and representatives of local 25-125 of the International Woodworkers of America, AFL-CIO, was ratified at a meeting of union members.

The settlement includes a general wage increase of 11 cents an hour, a maintenance of membership provision subject to a referendum to be conducted by the Wisconsin employment relations board and acceptance of the company's new incentive plan in the furniture department.

The new base wage rate is $1.45 an hour. The new contract will run to July 1, 1959.

The forest products plant, which manufactures lumber, juvenile furniture and flooring, has been closed by the walkout since July 21. The union maintained peaceful, around-the-clock picket lines at the plant's three gates throughout the strike.

Democrats Campaign In County, Score GOP

Nelson Threatens Thomson With Lawsuit
To Reveal State Building Projections

Winneconne — Saturday was Democrat day in Winnebago county and an army of state and county candidates, led by governor aspirant Gaylord Nelson, took advantage of the occasion to attack Republicans and Republican policy, and predict a Democratic victory in the fall elections.

Speaking at a Democratic party picnic at Winneconne, State Sen. Nelson threatened Gov. Vernon Thomson, his opponent, with a law suit to force him to make known the state's long range building program.

Nelson charged that Thomson has stood in direct violation of the Wisconsin statutes since taking office 18 months ago. "The law flatly orders the governor to submit a building program that shall include specific recommendations and establish priorities for six years ahead," Nelson declared. This has not been done since 1951.

The candidate told reporters earlier in the afternoon that he would have state building needs projected far into the future, if elected, and would attempt to bring about a constitutional amendment to set the state's debt limit. This would have to be submitted to state-wide referendum.

The Republicans have put the state into debt with four "dummy" building corporations, Nelson said, which lack the state's credit and therefore cost more in interest rates. The corporations already owe $42 millions, Nelson charged, and are paying interest rates as high as 3 per cent, while the city of Neenah is paying only half as much.

The people are still footing the bill for the building, Nelson said, because the legislature must appropriate funds to cover the debt, even though

Nelson to Ask For Outline of State Building

It's done indirectly. "It's still the people's debt," Nelson declared.

"The governor is dodging the state constitution's $100,000 debt limit to run up his huge deficit," Nelson said. He indicated that the state is going to go into debt, whether it be his way or Thomson's way, and that his way can save half the interest rate because it would have the state's credit behind it.

"It's about time that the state itself was authorized to borrow money directly, so that we won't be spending an extra $50,000 each month just to pay for the stupidity of having dummy corporations with so little respect that they are charged, double interest rates," the candidate said.

Nelson also called for a return to the "great tradition of the LaFollette Progressives, when vigorous men attacked old problems with new ideas."

Winnebago county was the 6th county in which Nelson has spoken in this pre-primary campaign.

Nelson also spoke at a noon luncheon at the Club Terrace near Appleton. Appearing with him were John W. Reynolds, Green Bay, candidate for attorney general; William H. Evans, Milwaukee (a resident of Neenah for 12 years ending in 1941), candidate for secretary of state; Palmer F. Dauge, Lake Mills, candidate for state treasurer; Milo Singler, Shiocton, candidate for Congress from the eighth district; candidates Ted Jackson and Warren Wilke for Winnebago county's first and third assembly districts and Herbert Pitt, candidate for the state 19th senatorial district.

Gries Hurls Menasha Macs To 3-1 Win Over Reedsville

Permits 5 Singles; Winners Limited to 4 by Bob Hanson

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Menasha — Getting another strong pitching performance from lefty Gene Gries, the Menasha Macs edged Reedsville 3-1 in a streamlined, one hour, 45 minute ball game here Sunday afternoon.

The victory gives the Menashans a 5-3 second round record and it closed the Fox River Valley league schedule for them except for the play-off which is expected to get underway next Sunday.

The game was a nifty pitching duel between two young left handers, Gries and Bob Hanson of Reedsville. The latter will be a senior at Brillion High school this fall. He only gave the Macs four hits while Reedsville tagged Gries for just five.

Gries walked three and hit one batter. He struck out 10 and was tight in the pinches, stranding seven runners on base, including three in the ninth.

Hanson walked two Macs, hit two more and struck out one. Brillion committed the only error of the game and it allowed the Macs to score their second (and as it turned out) the decisive marker.

Reedsville opened the scoring with its lone run in the fourth inning. Manager Ray Tisler led off with a single and took second on an infield out. After Don Edinger was called out on strikes, Bill Ebert singled to left, scoring Tisler. Gries hit "Chico" Zipperer with a pitched ball but fanned Arlyn Behnke to end the inning.

Macs Score Two

The Macs collected two in the last of the fifth. Tom Konetzke opened the frame by beating out a bunt. He was sacrificed to second by Don Gosz and took third on Ron Bunkleman's hit to right. The latter took second on the throw to the plate which forced Konetzke to remain at third.

Gries hit a sacrifice fly to right, scoring Konetzke. Bunkleman headed for third and scored when the rightfielder made a bad peg while trying to double him there.

The Macs added one in the seventh. Konetzke walked and went to second on Gosz's bunt, on which Hanson threw too late to second. Bunkleman sacrificed the runners to second and third and Konetzke scored on Gries' infield out.

Losers Threaten

Reedsville put on a serious threat in the ninth. "Buck" Edinger singled to right to open the inning. Don Edinger fled to left but Bill Ebert and Zipperer drew walks. Gries then bore down and whiffed Behnke and Dale Barnard to end the game.

Reedsville, which has quite a few power hitting left handed swingers in its lineup, wasn't able to take advantage of the strong wind which was blowing toward right field. Several long Mac blows, which would have been homers on most other days, were caught short of the fence.

The Mac defense featured several nice plays by Darold Eggert, at third base and Bunkleman at second.

Menasha Girls Win Opening Softball Meet

Kaukauna Finishes Second in FRVL Test Here This Weekend

Kaukauna — The Menasha Recreation Girls' Softball team won the first Fox Valley league softball tournament at Kaukauna over the weekend, winning over every other conference team in the round robin event including a 7 to 0 win over the Kaukauna team in the finals.

In its march to the crown the Menasha crew posted a 14 to 2 win over the Neenah foundry, a 27 to 5 win over Kimberly-Clark and finally downed the Kaukauna team. The latter reached the finals on a 30 to 10 win over Kimberly-Clark, and a 21 to 4 win over the Neenah foundry.

Neenah foundry finished in third place by defeating Kimberly-Clark 8 to 5 in the closest game of the tourney. Shirley Palish hurled the champions to the opening and final game wins while Jo Pruitt gained credit for the second victory.

Championship Tilt

Menasha jumped off to a lead in the first inning in the championship test with Kaukauna, getting two runs on three hits. Doris Eckstein led off with a single and advanced to third on a double by Sandra Lornson. Shirley Palish then tripped to plate both runners.

Kaukauna threatened in its half of the first inning as Hope Hilgenberg and Dot Kastell both hit safely but the side was retired without a scoring. Elaine Warnecke, losing hurler, then set the side down in order for four straight innings before running into trouble in the sixth.

After one out Doris Eckstein singled, Hynne Labby walked, Sandra Lornson tripled and Shirley Palish banged a long home run to clear the bases. A single by Lola DeBruin, another by Betty Gratz, a double by Jean Romneke and a single by Phyllis Slomski accounted for only one more run for the winners.

Kaukauna was up and down in order in the second, third, fourth and fifth innings. The losers picked up their third hit of the game in the sixth inning when Judy Borree singled. The winning hurler failed to issue a walk, struck out six and her mates committed only three errors.

The losing hurler allowed 10 hits, all in two innings, walked one and was given errorless support by her teammates.

Defective Hearing or Vision Handicap to Schoolchildren

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

Sometimes perfectly smart children get the label of being stupid in school, because they can't see, or can't hear well.

A noted eye specialist at one of the big medical schools says that faulty vision can be the difference between failure and near-genius in school. That is, a child with a brilliant mind can be placed under a tremendous handicap if he sees on the blackboard is a blur.

The same is true of hearing. How can a child learn if he can't hear? It is one thing for a child to hear loud or distinct orders, or perhaps to know from the tone of voice for a before-school physical and an unconscious nod of somebody's head, that he is supposed to do so and so. So before a child starts going to he obeys. Or, being smart, he sees what the other children are doing and does it, too, but he doesn't really hear very school term begins.

I've known youngsters who couldn't read street signs Take some cotton wool and stuff it in your ears, and turn the TV down — and you can still follow the story more or less, but you don't follow it very vividly, and you have to strain all the time. It's the same way with a child whose hearing is defective. Or take a sheet of wrinkled cellophane and lay it on top of the newspaper or book you are reading. You can read, but you have to struggle without some of the founda- each word, and you spend so much time figuring out the grades. words that you lose the continuity of what you are reading. Eyesight and hearing should be checked to give a child a fair shake in school. To be sure, the schools often have health examinations, including charts for eyesight and (sometimes) a hearing test.

Not Whole Story

With all due respect to excellent school health projects, a simple eye chart does not always tell the whole story. Neither is it always possible for a school doctor to detect faulty hearing.

In fact, it isn't unusual for parents themselves not to notice these defects, because they often come on gradually and the child — having no way of knowing what normal hearing and sight should be — learns to adjust and to get along with what he has. These are two good reasons why a before-school physical and a thorough checkup before a child starts going to school at all, and I certainly see what the other children are doing and does it, too, but he doesn't really hear very school term begins.

I've known youngsters who couldn't read street signs Take some cotton wool and stuff it in your ears, and turn the TV down — and you can still follow the story more or less, but you don't follow it very vividly, and you have to strain all the time. ## These Days

Sokolsky Wonders at change In Noted American Jewish Family

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY

New York—Names come to people from their ancestors and represent the continuity of heredity. It is normal for one to be proud of his inheritance unless his ancestors committed outrages against society. Sometimes men change their names because they are ugly and have a miserable connotation in English or are unpronounceable, but the change, let us say, from Nieschewski to Bancroft is a misrepresentation of personality. Of course, if one lives in a community where prejudice of all kinds prevails, it might be regarded as advisable to Americanize a name to avoid the "stigma" of European origin, or if one wishes to join a Christian church, it may be preferable to be known as King rather than as Cohn.

These are questions of taste and no person need suffer opprobrium for his taste. Nevertheless, when one has a very distinguished ancestry, it does cause wonder when a name is abandoned. Few American citizens have cabinet members and ambassadors in their heritage. Yet the news was widely printed that Percy S. Straus, Jr., a lawyer from Houston, Texas, has changed his name and the names of all his children. One explanation was that a son hoped to make a position for himself in the scientific world, and apparently the name was regarded as a handicap, although Lewis L. Strauss, no relation, headed for many years the Atomic Energy commission and Albert Einstein became the greatest name in the scientific world. Einstein could, of course, have changed his name to Smith, but would he have gained greater fame as Smith?

Lazarus Straus came to the United States from Bavaria in 1854 and first settled in Talbotton, Ga. He founded a crockery business in Columbus, Ga., about a century ago. After the Civil war, in 1866, Straus came to New York where he entered the same business, establishing what are nowadays called concessions in department stores. He also retained a separate crockery and glassware business known as L. Straus and Sons. Out of this grew the great department store known as Macy's, an interest in the Abraham & Straus department store in Brooklyn, and subsequently a chain of great businesses.

Lazarus Straus has three sons, Nathan, Isidor and Oscar, men of unusual distinction. Nathan throughout his life was known as a philanthropist, a fighter for causes. It was he who fought the battle for the pasteurization of milk and won it. To Nathan's heirs remained the original business, now Straus-Duparquet, Inc., which outfitted the galley of the "Nautilus." Isidor Straus was the outstanding merchant whose genius built Macy's into the leading department store in the world. Oscar went into public life. He was graduated from Columbia university and was a lawyer. He was minister to Turkey and a member of the Permanent Court of Arbitration at the Hague, filling out the term of former President Harrison. He was reappointed to the Hague position by Presidents Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson. He served as a member of President Roosevelt's cabinet in the then comparatively new position of secretary of commerce and labor and ended his public career as ambassador to Turkey. Oscar Straus was the author of a number of important books in law and diplomacy.

Significant Contributions

The Straus brothers have always been regarded as among those men in American Jewry of whom all Jews were most proud. It was not their wealth that was so important as their very significant contributions to American life. Isidor Straus created an entirely new concept of merchandising which has come down to us today in the great efficiencies and savings of the large department and chain stores. Selling strictly for cash, he gave the purchaser interest on his money to the tune of a 6 per cent saving. Although many found the notion quaint, it was natural that he should have thought of it because he was a believer in sound money and devoted himself to movements for economic stabilization.

Isidor was also a philanthropist and went in strongly for the Americanization of the newer Jewish immigrants. For many years, he was president of the Educational Alliance, a settlement house then devoted to this cause.

The Houston, Texas, Straus' sons will now be known as Seligman, which is strictly their business. But the newspapers with matches by children, account of their venture in though mental and emotional problems, vandalism, and motives of hatred and spite also occur in the juvenile offenses, it was said.

The state had 37,331 reported fires of all kinds last year, resulting in damage of $20,121,939, on which insurance of slightly under $18,000,000 was paid.

Registration of New Holy Name Students Set

Kimberly—Registration for new students at Holy Name Catholic school who may have moved into the village since the spring registration will be held at 2 o'clock in the afternoon Sept. 2.

Classes at the school are scheduled to get underway with an 8 o'clock high mass in honor of the Holy Spirit on Sept. 3. Only morning sessions at the school will be held for the first three days.

Women of the Moose Change Meeting Place

Kaukauna — The Women of the Moose will meet at 8 o'clock Tuesday night at Union hall on Crooks avenue rather than in the Legion hall where meetings were formerly held.

The Loyol Order of Moose will meet at the same time and also will use the new gathering place.

Madison — State fire marshals are worried about juvenile firebugs.

Last year one Wisconsin child set 13 fires before he was apprehended by authorities and the state fire marshal's annual report says "fire setting by juveniles has been and continues to be the most serious single problem confronting the arson investigator."

The problem is not unique in Wisconsin, but last year the state fire marshal's office resolved to collect more definite statistics on the problem in this state.

Juveniles are Most Serious Fire Problem

The findings: 77 investigations resulted in the apprehension of 115 persons under the age of 18 years, involving 101 separate fires with a total damage of $283,000, or somewhat more than $2,800 per fire.

There were eight lives lost as a result of fires set by children in Wisconsin.

A major cause is playing with matches by children, although mental and emotional problems, vandalism, and motives of hatred and spite also occur in the juvenile offenses, it was said.

The state had 37,331 reported fires of all kinds last year, resulting in damage of $20,121,939, on which insurance of slightly under $18,000,000 was paid.

Lions Schedule Family Picnic At High Cliff

Kaukauna — The annual family picnic for members of the Kaukauna Lions club will be held Tuesday evening at High Cliff park, festivities to get underway about 4:30 and a picnic lunch to be served at 6:30.

Games are being planned Sept. 8.

Announcements for grade school football practice will be made later, according to Hull.

The Possible Use of Spent Sulphite liquor as a stabilization agent for the base of a road later to be blacktopped is under study by a group of experts from the University of Wisconsin and the paper industry. Shown on the experimental Madison street, from left, are Jaro Holy, Appleton, assistant to the director of the Sulphite Pulp Manufacturers Research league; Suresh T. Brahma, UW graduate student who will conduct the research; Prof. Lloyd E. Rader, of the UW civil engineering department; and Elmer Quayle, Neenah, head of the roadbinder department of Kimberly-Clark corporation.

Spent Sulphite May Help Life of Roads

Experiment in Madison Could Give Answer to More Stable Surfaces

Madison — Better roads and better fishing for Wisconsin are twin goals of a long-range research project started on an experimental stretch of a Madison city street this week by the combined efforts of university engineers, Madison municipal authorities, and pulp-and-paper industry technical men.

Their scientifically controlled tests are aimed to check upon conjectures of practical road men based on a scattering of less rigidly supervised experiments elsewhere. If the technologists' findings confirm earlier impressions, substantial quantities of spent sulphite liquor, a pulping process byproduct formerly discarded into streams, will be used to make roads and streets last longer by stabilizing the bases upon which pavements are laid, investigators assert.

The new application for sulphite roadbinder is in addition to the more than 62 million gallons per year already being applied to Wisconsin roads. Up to now, sulphite roadbinder has been widely utilized on gravel road surfaces principally to control dust and to stabilize the surface course and decrease loss of ballast thrown off by passing wheels.

Layers of Material

The engineers at the Madison experimental project are turning their attention to paved roads instead of gravel roads, and to layers of road material beneath the road surface itself. They reason that by using sulphite roadbinder before laying the actual pavement, they may be able to reduce subsequent irregularities and eventual break-up of the paving mat. Engineering tests by the Brown county highway department in recent years using somewhat different techniques point in this direction, technical men say.

Experimental work on base stabilization got under way this week with 750 feet of new pavement being laid on Starkweather drive near Lake Monona in Madison. Within 10 days this will be blacktopped to strict specifications, and thereafter a close watch will be kept upon it using the most precise methods known to engineering science.

Lloyd F. Rader, University of Wisconsin professor of civil engineering, is top technical man on the study, assisted by Suresh T. Brahma, graduate student who will carry on the actual tests as research work leading to a doctor's degree in engineering. James Brophy, street commissioner, and John Thompson, city engineer, are in charge for the city of Madison.

Kimberly-Clark corporation, Neenah, is supplying sulphite roadbinder for the experiment from its Kimberly mill, and is lending the services of Elmer Quayle, head of its roadbinder department. Jaro Holy, assistant to director, Sulphite Pulp Manufacturers' Research league, Appleton, is the industry technical consultant assigned to the project.

27 Doctors Candidates For Coroner

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Twenty-seven physicians are candidates for the county coroner's office in the state elections this fall, the State Medical society reports.

The society for some years has encouraged doctors to offer their services as coroners, and at the same time has urged the legislature, unsuccessfully thus far, to replace the ancient elective office with a system of appointive medical examiners. The society's legislation is expected to be submitted anew in the 1959 legislature. Only Milwaukee county thus far has provided a county medical examiner office.

The society survey showed a variety of experience and training qualifications not especially relevant to the coroner's duties and function, as the professional organization sees it.

The list of coroner candidates includes laborers, salesmen, mechanics, real estate men, junk yard managers, hatchery and restaurant operators, and others, including at least one person who lists himself as unemployed, according to a poll of county clerks.

It also was shown that two counties, Price and Marquette, have no candidates. Two chiropractors are candidates in two other counties.

'True-Blue' Wife Confused in The Case of Mistaken Identity

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: I'm practically in a state of shock as I write this letter. I hope you won't think I'm a nut. Please help me. I don't know where else to turn.

Three years ago my husband disappeared. He was a heavy drinker and Ann Landers had gone on toots before, so I wasn't terribly worried. After three weeks I became concerned and notified the police.

The next night they reported they'd found a man in the river (apparently a suicide) and the wallet on the river bank had my husband's identification. He'd been in the water several days so they didn't ask me to look at him. I gave him a nice funeral and grieved for months wondering where I'd failed.

Last night, some three years later, I attended an open-air concert in another city and I'm positive I saw my husband there with a woman and a small child. When he saw me, they all left hurriedly. I love this man very much and want him back. I'll forgive him for everything if he'll only come home. What shall I do? I don't want to cause him any trouble. — B.H.W.

This is a matter for the police — whether you want to cause him any trouble or not. It would be mighty interesting to find out who it was you buried. Also, notify the insurance company immediately if you collected on any policies. They will be happy to help you investigate.

Although his "leaving hurriedly" seems to give strength to your suspicion, keep in mind the possibility of mistaken identity. Your willingness to "forgive everything" is noble, indeed, but if the person you saw is your husband I doubt that there's much you can do with a man who'd rather be "dead" than come home.

DEAR ANN: I married a mama's girl. My wife is on the phone with her mother at least five times a day.

I work six days a week, 12 hours a day. When I come home at night I'd like a decent supper. You'd think I was asking for the moon. My wife goes to her mother's almost every afternoon and asks me to meet her there. Yesterday I told her I was tired and didn't feel like going where I'd failed.

He goes to these affairs every year. No mates are allowed. I've never said anything but I feel very left out. He claims the parties are dull but he must go for business reasons. He's in solid with his bosses and I can't believe he must attend these parties. Please take a stand now so I'll know how to handle the matter this year. — LEFT OUT WIFE

It's too bad when a wife can't let her husband off the leash one night a year without wallowing in self-pity.

If you can't be a good sport about it simply tell the poor fish that you object and ask him to stay home.

You'll be happy to learn that Christmas office parties without mates are fast disappearing from the American scene. At any rate, it's not worth a family fight, so your husband should skip it if it's going to break you up.

Mrs. Michael Coyle, Bride Wed In Service

Miss Donna M. Collins became the bride of Michael C. Coyle in a double ring ceremony at 9:30 Saturday morning, Aug. 16, at Most Precious Blood Catholic church, New London. The Rev. Jaroslav Polc officiated at the service.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Elzy Collins, route 3, New London, and Mr. and Mrs. William E. Coyle, Chicago, Ill.

Presented at the altar by her father, the bride was attended by Mrs. James Besaw, New London, as matron of honor. Mrs. Donald Behm, cousin of the bride, Hortonville, and Miss Ann Marie Coyle, sister of the bridegroom, Chicago, were bridesmaids.

Robert Thayer, New London, was best man, and Russell Carturigal, New London, and Richard Collins, brother of the bride, New London, were groomsmen. Ushers were Pvt. Besaw and Kenneth Zeimer, New London.

A dinner at the home of the bride's parents was held after the ceremony. The couple was honored at the Collins home at a reception, which was followed by a dance at Eberts hall, New London.

After a wedding trip to northern Wisconsin, the couple will live on Waupaca street, New London.

The bride is a graduate of Washington High school. The bridegroom is a graduate of the same school, and of the Vocational school, Appleton. He is employed at Pope Motors, Ford garage, New London.

to her mother's. She said, "Well, that's tough, Buddy, then fix yourself a sandwich."

Her mother backs her up in whatever she says or does. I feel like an outsider. Tell me what to do. — SUCKER

Your wife is fleeing from her responsibilities by running to mama's house. Emotionally she's still a little girl who finds it easier to go to her mother's than shop for groceries, plan a meal, cook and put it on the table.

Take this little girl by the hand and see a marriage counselor. She needs to hear from an unbiased party what's expected of a wife and homemaker. If she refuses to go, you have every right to leave her with mama until she grows up.

DEAR ANN: Am I crazy to be thinking about Christmas in August? Maybe you won't think so when I tell you I just heard of another divorce that resulted from the Christmas office party which my husband attended.

He goes to these affairs every year. No mates are allowed. I've never said anything but I feel very left out. He claims the parties are dull but he must go for business reasons. ## Margaret Mullen Leaves for East

Miss Margaret Mullen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Mullen, 822 W. Third street, left today for New Hyde Park, Long Island, N.Y., where she will be on the faculty of Herrick Junior High school.

Miss Mullen attended Marquette university and was graduated this year from the University of Wisconsin.

Mother's Helper

A QUILTED mattress pad (single size, folded in half) makes a wonderfully absorbent playpen floor covering. It's best to have two of them, so you've a spare while one is in the laundry. They're heavy enough to stay in place quite well, but you can sew tapes at each corner and at the half-way mark down each side, if you like.

In Good Taste

Depends on Husband's Viewpoint

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: Before I married I dated a young man for about a year during his stay in my home town for business training. When he left, we corresponded regularly on a very friendly basis, nothing serious. I was married several months ago and moved to another city. This young man learned of my new address upon his return to my home town and sent me a very friendly letter, asking for the news, etc. Would it be proper for me to continue to write to him now that I am married? My husband has never met him.

Answer: If your husband does not object, and neither you nor your old date write anything that you would not willingly show to your husband, you may continue this correspondence.

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it a ner, Jr., Johnsburg, Allen Christel, Valders, and Lester Nett, Brillion.

Ushers were Rodney Ronk and Joseph Schomisch, both of Chilton. Completing the bridal party was Nancy Hanson, Chicago, miniature bride. Altona club, New Holstein, was the site of a wedding reception.

The young Mrs. Wagner is a graduate of New Holstein High school and was graduated from the University of Wisconsin in June. She has accepted a position as a speech correctionist in Stevens Point where her bridegroom is a senior at Wisconsin State college.

Mr. Wagner attended Chilton High school and Wisconsin State college, Eau Claire. He served with the armed forces for two years in Germany.

breach of good manners to ask a bride-to-be what she and her attendants are wearing at the wedding? The other day I asked this of a friend who is soon to be married and she promptly changed the subject, completely ignoring my question. Since then I have been wondering whether I were wrong to ask.

Answer: There was no bad manners in asking this question because many brides do like to talk about their plans, but others like to keep them a secret. Evidently this bride was one of the latter and all she had to say, instead of ignoring your question was, "I want to keep the wedding plans a surprise."

At Funeral Home

Dear Mrs. Post: At a funeral home, is it necessary for the closest relative of the deceased to stand (in this case a wife) and greet each visitor after he pays his respects to the deceased?

Answer: No, certainly not. This would be utter cruelty to the stricken widow.

Teens Need Guidance On Educational Plans

BY ANGELO PATRI
Young John Henry was graduated from secondary school last June and like many other boys took a job for the summer.
He was a pleasant, well-mannered boy who made friends easily and won his employer's approval. He earned a good salary—more money than he had ever handled before. All this gave young John Henry the idea that he had arrived at man's estate and in no need for further education or advice. Thus, he informed his parents that he was not entering college as planned but intended to stay on in his job.
"You must be out of your mind," said his father. "Because you earned a few dollars as a clerk in a shop, filling in for the real thing, you think yourself competent to take a man's place in the world? You're crazy. You are not going to live in the world that fill-in job implies. You're going to live in a completely new situation and you'd better hustle and prepare yourself, if you can, to keep up with the procession. You're going back to school next week. Don't tell me. Back you go."
Sticks to Decision
John Henry balked, stuttered, begged, wept—considered himself a abused—but Dad stuck to it saying, "You're going back to school, going to college and win your degree. Forget that job. You have to grow up. You can't stay 16 forever. You'll have a wife and kids of your own and it will take more than what your job paid to keep them and you. You're only beginning to know what it's all about and it's going to take you years to learn so get busy." John Henry went back.

Another father in the same situation lost patience and said, "all right. If that's what you want. Remember, if you stop school now you're on your own from then on. You can expect no help from me. Go ahead and see where you get."

Now the decision to get an education or to give up the idea is too important to leave to a child even when that child assumes the attitude of adulthood. It is but an assumption. He is still a child in such matters and needs the guidance and the authority of his parents to keep him from making a mistake that will handicap him for his life time. If the boy or girl has the aptitude for a college education and can have it, he should be made to try for it. Permissiveness is fine when the choices are both safe. It can be disastrous when the choice is not mature enough to make the choice. That is what parents are for.

St. Joseph Unit Slates Program Dates for Autumn

Fall program dates were slated by officers of the St. Joseph Ladies Aid and Missionary society when they met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Herman Klippstein, treasurer. ## Israel Border Police Take Lebanese Arabs After Exchange of Fire

Tel Aviv, Israel.—(AP)—Officials said six Arab infiltrators from Lebanon were captured by police patrol this morning near the northern border after an exchange of fire. The six were in a group of 20, the officials said.

Gary Deguise, 6, Fairmont, Minn., wound up the loser after a trip into the fields to catch butterflies, but he's getting a lot of sympathy. Gary woke up in the middle of the night, his eyes swollen. Doctors determined the swelling was caused by insect bites. Gary's mother, Mrs. Leo Deguise, said her son didn't seem to suffer any pain.

One-Stroke Decoration for a Plain Kitchen

Kitchen color schemes go astray when the kitchen is small and the colors are too many. It's a happy relief to settle for just one color for practically everything, after living with walls divided in two by one color below and another above, cabinets something else and major appliances that match nothing. But that doesn't mean that the predominantly one-color kitchen shouldn't take a fling with brisk dashes of several bright colors, as this small kitchen does.

The color fling is a deep wallpaper border which prints menus, kitchen tools and vegetables in pink, yellow, green and black, or harmonies of two blues, red and blue, or yellows, slate gray and black. Plainness is relieved at one stroke with this deft decorating touch, and nothing more is needed than repeats of the lead color below in useful accessories. Look for boldness and adequate size if the border is to be as effective as this, and for patterns that aren't intended for the kitchen as well as for those that are. (Carte de Jour border by Basset & Vollum.)

Mrs. J. M. "My husband believes in using and enjoying things, and we have ten grand children under the age of eight who visit us frequently. So when we buy our new sectional sofa it must be something practical. What upholstery fabric and color do you suggest for it? The combination living and dining room is 37 feet by 13 feet with no separation except a wooden divider. The wall opposite the picture window in the living area is pink and the other walls are papered in a pink, blue and green pattern. Dining walls have a scenic paper in the same colors and gray heather below it, separated by pink molding and all the woodwork in pink. The floor is gray tile with streaks of pink and green. A desk and TV set are dark and tables are blond."

Nylon, which now comes in a wide variety of upholstery fabrics, or a fabric that's treated with a silicone solution so dirt and spills wipe off with a damp cloth, or leather—all would help the furniture to take the small fry in stride. A soft-medium green is a good choice of color, and a mixture predominantly green with gray and perhaps a little beige or white in it.

Mrs. F. W. A. "I have four framed prints of figures in old-fashioned costumes that are appropriate to the style of my bedroom, but I need at least two more pictures to complete an arrangement on the wall space where they'd look best. What subjects should I look for? I know I can't find more of the same kind of prints because I have the complete set."

Heads wearing hats or in headresses or hairdos of the same period would be a nice addition, or you might find landscapes with or without figures in them, again of the period. Which depends largely on what size is needed for the additional pictures. (Copyright, 1958)

With the spade suit, and specifically the spade king, in the East hand, North should have been the one to play the hand at three no trump, but on an at-the-table basis it was not easy to find logical bidding that would produce that effect. After passing originally, South naturally wanted to announce that he had a fair holding, including a spade stopper.

West opened the spade seven, dummy played low, and declarer took East's ten with the ace. The five diamonds were then run off. East discarded wisely: he gave up one spade and two clubs, blanking the club king, on the realization that he could not keep protection in both hearts and clubs without fatally shortening his spade suit. Note that if he had held onto the K-3 of hearts and the K-6 of clubs, declarer could have knocked out the heart king and lost, in all, only three spades and the heart trick.

Unfortunately for the defense, however, West's discarding was not so wise! He signalled high in clubs and let go one heart, but on the last diamond he couldn't see any possible use for his own 6-2 of spades, so he gave up the spade deuce. Thereupon, declarer cashed the club ace and led the spade queen—and after East had taken his spades, he had to return a

A Lovelier You
By Mary Sue Miller
The accepted college wardrobe contains these basics: all-purpose coat, with camel's hair the favorite; heavy-duty raincoat; campus-city suit, of which Norfolks are the newest; classic separates—straight or pleated skirts, Bermuda shorts, tailored shirts and pullover sweaters; jacketed date dress and dress coat, fashioned along trapeze or Empire lines.
But unless you add a few "fun" clothes to the basics, your wardrobe can pall before mid-years. Then, you are apt to feel like a madchen in uniform and maybe, look it. So be sure to include a few such gaieties as: a "Henry Higgins" sort of sweater, bulky almost knee-length; a shorty-skirt; a raccoon pull-over; a blanket-plaid, fringed overblouse; a waist-skipping jumper; a floral print, wool date dress.
Above all, do not fear wearing your zanier selections. They will not make you stick out in your crowd like a sore thumb, as so many girls think. On the contrary, such fancies help establish you as an individual in your group.

Below freezing temperatures have been recorded in Wisconsin for the first time this summer.

On a day when minimum readings normally would be in the 60s and high 50s, the mercury plunged to 24 in the cranberry bogs near Wisconsin Rapids early in the morning. Heavy frost was reported in the area. The lowest non-bog temperature was 30 degrees at Mather, the coldest spot, officially, in the country.

Madison's 37 was the lowest ever recorded there during any August in the history of the Madison Weather bureau.

Appleton Low

The Fox Cities didn't have freezing temperatures this morning, but it seemed like it as the mercury dropped to a low of 44 in Appleton. The high Sunday was 69 and the reading at 11:30 this morning was still a low 60 degrees.

Precipitation Sunday measured .33 of an inch.

Maximum temperatures Sunday ranged from 53 at Phillips to 74 at Milwaukee.

Needles, Calif., again set the national high Sunday with a peak of 109 degrees.

Forecast

The early forecast calls for increasing cloudiness and warmer in the northwest today with some scattered showers or thundershowers likely this afternoon or evening. It will be mostly cloudy with a few showers in the north and central portions tonight and not quite so cool. Tuesday will be partly cloudy and a little cooler in the northwest. The low tonight will be from 45 to 54 in the north and from 35 to 62 in the south. The outlook for Wednesday is for partly cloudy with little change in temperature.

The 5-day forecast calls for temperatures to average near normal for the northwest half of the state and about three degrees below normal in the southwest half. The normal high is from 71 to 78 in the north and from 70 to 80 in the south. The normal low is from 50 to 55 in the north and from 55 to 59 in the south.

State Parties Hope for Stronger Campaigns When Congress Ends

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — The return of Wisconsin members of congress soon will strengthen campaign efforts of both political parties, in the view of their headquarters captains. Republicans are actively planning for the return of their congressional delegation to spruce up a campaign effort that has not been lively enough thus far to please all quarters of the state GOP organization.

They are especially relying on Rep. John W. Byrnes of Green Bay and Melvin R. Laird of Marshfield to prop up the party's group effort. They are regarded as the ablest and most effective stumpers in the Wisconsin GOP delegation to Washington.

But other Wisconsin Republican congressmen are being scheduled for heavy duty also, especially in their own constituencies. In much the same way, the Democrats are looking to their ranking congressional representative, Sen. William Proxmire, to increase the vitality of their propaganda and speech-making outlays. Proxmire is the titular leader of the party, as its highest elected office-holder in a quarter of a century, and also is respected for his stumping prowess. Some Democrats feel that their campaign under the leadership of Gaylord Nelson of Madison, candidate for governor, is not yet as effective as it must be.

The three Democratic congressmen from Wisconsin are expected to deliver special labors on behalf of the party as a whole. Reps. Henry Reuss and Zablocki of Milwaukee are favorites in their own districts for reelection, but they will be pressed for hard duty to assist the state ticket.

Rep. Lester Johnson of Black River Falls, in a district which represents a significant bridgehead into farm country by the Democrats, has had reports that his Republican opponent is stronger than had been expected this year. Charles Hornback of Eau Claire is making a determined bid to recapture that historically Republican district.

Sen. Alexander Wiley, of Wisconsin, the state's senior senator, has had comparative little connection with the election campaigns of his home state during many recent years—except when he has periodically run for reelection.

Hope for Return
But party leaders are soliciting his intervention this year, and are hopeful that he will return to Wisconsin to take the stump. Wiley has not yet committed himself specifically, but GOP headquarters is building its campaign itineraries on the assumption that he will be home for field duty during September and October. In some previous congressional interim periods, Wiley has traveled abroad.

Because the Republicans have comparatively few primary election contests, the scope of their campaign activity has thus far been excelled by the Democrats, who have many contests and whose candidates accordingly are traveling the state intensively in search of votes for party nominations.

The greater interest in the Democratic primary has given birth to some cautious predictions that the traditional voting pattern of the state may be altered on primary day, Sept. 9, and that the Democrats will out-poll the Republicans for the first time.

Foxes Strive to Salvage Finale of Winona Series

Cueto Loses 6-4 Verdict To Hoffman

BY MIKE DREW
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Gresham's Bob Hoffman helped Winona's Athletics continue their Three-I league second round mastery of the Fox Cities Foxes Sunday night.

Knotholers to Receive Autographed Baseballs

Autographed baseballs will be given to members of the Appleton Optimists' Knothole gang on the final knothole night of the Fox Cities Foxes' home season tonight at Goodland field.

Knutholers to Receive Autographed Baseballs

All knutholers are admitted free to the game.

enth triumph in nine second half starts against the Foxes.

Tonight, Earl Furlow (3-3) seeks to salvage the finale of the 4-game Winona series. Another righthander, Stan Horvatin (8-14), who has been the league's strikeout leader, will oppose him.

On July 29 Furlow was the winning pitcher as the Foxes beat Winona, 9-8, after dropping the first two tilts of a 3-game set, the last series between the clubs.

Hoffman was the loser in that one, his only previous decision against the Fox Cities.

The Athletics won Sunday night's game as a pair of eighth inning tallies scurried home on an error. It was the first Fox Cities loss for young righthander Bert Cueto who probably merited a better fate.

Fans Chilled

A crowd of just 453 thoroughly chilled fans were warmed for several innings during the game by the "coaching" antics of the "Crown Prince of Baseball," Max Patkin. The laugh-provoking Patkin went through numerous double-jointed maneuvers as he coached at both first and third base for the Foxes.

As part of his routine he batted, argued with the umpires and cavorted about in an old-style swimming suit.

The 6-2, 21-year-old Hoffman made his Winona record 5-6 with a 7-strikeout, 4-walk performance. He had started the season with Albany in the Class A Eastern league.

This is the first year in the Kansas City farm system for Hoffman who hurled from 1955-57 in the Braves' chain.

Only two of the Fox Cities runs off him were earned, and all seven Fox hits were singles.

Carlos "Potato" Pascual, the circuit's premier hitter, slapped two singles to jack his average up to .382. Don Dantoni went 2-for-3 for 12 hits in his last 25 at bats and hits in his last six games. Winona's Dave Gorrie pounded two singles and a double.

Unloads Homer

Winona's hot-hitting Tom McDonald unloaded a homer well over the right field fence at the 330-mark to give his club a 1-0 lead in the top of the first.

Little Chute — The Little Chute-Kimberly baseball team captured the second half championship of the Fox River Valley league here Sunday afternoon, defeating Oshkosh, 6-4.

The win was doubly sweet for the Chutes as the invaders had defeated them earlier this season, knocking them out of a chance for a share of the first half title.

long home run into the bleachers in the eighth inning to clinch the decision.

Oshkosh outbatted the winners, eight to seven, but four of the winners' hits came off the bat of Paul Moylan thus insuring the hit spread over four different innings.

Al Harke went all the way for the winners and ran into serious trouble in only two innings. Bob Manthey, losing hurler, gave up only six hits but LC-K made the hits when they were needed.

First Score

The losers jumped off to a lead in the first inning when Moylan, lead off hitter, slammed a long home run. But Harke settled down to get the next 11 straight batters.

LC-K scored in the second. With two out, Ron Weigman singled for the first hit of the game for the winners. Hank Peerenboom then singled and Al Harke walked, setting the stage for a 2-run single by Tom Vander Pas.

The winners added a run in the fourth on a single by Jim Nirschl, a passed ball and a single by Weigman. Oshkosh fought back into the lead in the fifth as three runs crossed the plate on three hits.

A walk and three singles including one by Moylan and another by George Mohr accounted for the tallies. The winners tied the count in the sixth on a triple by Gene Peerenboom and an infield out.

Losers Threaten

Oshkosh threatened in the seventh when, with two out Moylan rapped a single to right center field. Hake ran into a spell of wildness to walk the next two batters. But Jim Fuhs rapped a weak grounder to the mound and Harke tossed underhand to the catcher to catch the man coming home.

LC-K sewed up the contest in the eighth on a solid poke

Subway Nine Eliminated in State Meet

Dietzen Wins Twice In Softball Meet At Oshkosh

Post-Crescent News Service

Oshkosh—Appleton Subway Bar won two games before being eliminated, over the weekend from the Wisconsin State Amateur Softball tournament played here.

Subway won its opener, downing Eau Claire Peters Meats, 3-1, behind Les Dietzen. Dietzen and Don Bodway homered in this victory.

Drops 2-0 Verdict

The Appleton team then dropped a 2-0 verdict to Racine Brushas in a 9-inning contest. Bob Diener was the loser, giving up a home run to pitcher Jim Chambers for the two Racine markers.

Appleton kept alive its title aspirations, beating La Crosse Wiggert Brothers, 6-1, behind Dietzen. Don Gauthier cracked a home run for Appleton in this, its third game on Saturday.

Jack Tracy and Carol Rickli combined for a 2-hitter as Kenosha Gascoignes eliminated Subway Sunday morning by a lop-sided 13-1 count. Diener and Dietzen hurled for Appleton.

Fondy Loses, 6-4, In Regional Test

Bismarck, N. D. —(P)—Minneapolis Grain Exchange defeated Fond du Lac, 6-4, Sunday in the opening game of the Region 9 American Legion Junior baseball tournament.

The defeat broke Fond du Lac pitcher "Hub" King's victory string at 21. King allowed seven hits and only one earned run but was victimized by his team's seven errors. Fond du Lac got seven hits and three earned runs off Dennis Boike.

Athletics Win VFW Booster Tilt

BY JIM VAN HORN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Staging a 3-run, eighth-inning rally which cut the Athletics' lead to one run, the Fox Cities Foxes gave Winona some bad moments at Goodland field Saturday night before losing, 5-4, in the Veterans of Foreign Wars booster game.

Roy Sceray's pair of 2-run homers helped the A's to their second straight win over the Foxes. The only run which Sceray didn't personally account for was the decisive run in the eighth.

In that inning, Tony Frulio opened with a single and Sceray walked. Ron Bloodworth's wild pitch sent the runners to second and third. Dave Gorrie's sacrifice fly to center scored Frulio, and the Athletics were coasting along on a comfortable 5-1 lead.

Foxes' Surge

In their half of the eighth, the Foxes, came up with three runs and equalled their total of hits prior to that inning (four.)

Jim Nisewonger singled, but Rene "Babe" Nodarse, batting for Bloodworth, struck out. Don Dantoni singled and Bob Tano doubled to score Nisewonger. A passed ball by Winona catcher Rick Rogers allowed Dantoni to score. Carlos "Potato" Pascual singled, scoring Tano.

At this point Winona pitcher Ernie Nevers was forced to call it a night, as fireman Hal Raether came in and got "Tex" Taylor out.

The Foxes threatened in the ninth when Bob Van Dyke singled and "Chick" Payne sacrificed-bunted him to second, but Raether forced Nisewonger to fly out and fanned pinch-hitter Hank Marockie, ending the game.

Loser Bloodworth (6-9), allowed one walk and striking out seven. He was taken out for a pinch batter in the ninth.

McMahon gave up one hit, allowed one walk and fanned one man in his two innings.

Warren Spahn, who had a mild virus ailment Sunday, was scheduled to pitch.

Eddie Mathews opened the tenth with a single and Aaron followed with a blast into the left field pavilion, his 28th homer of the season.

Add Another

The Braves added another run on Joe Adcock's double. Andy Pafko's infield hit and Johnny Logan's single.

The victory, in the opening of a crucial 5-game series, put the Braves seven games ahead of the second-place Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates.

Aaron's homer inflicted the loss on Al Worthington, second of three Giant hurlers. It was his sixth loss against 10 victories.

McMahon Wins

The victory went to Don McMahon the third Milwaukee hurler, who pitched the ninth and tenth innings. McMahon has a 7-2 record.

Leaders' 8-5 Triumph Over Giants

Puts Them Seven Games in Front

San Francisco —(P)— Henry Aaron clouted a 2-run homer in the tenth inning Sunday, implementing the league leading Milwaukee Braves' 8-5 victory over second place San Francisco.

The clubs had been tied since the fifth inning when Milwaukee made it 5-5 on Red Schoendienst's double and Aaron's single.

Eddie Mathews opened the tenth with a single and Aaron followed with a blast into the left field pavilion, his 28th homer of the season.

Add Another

The Braves added another run on Joe Adcock's double. Andy Pafko's infield hit and Johnny Logan's single.

The victory, in the opening of a crucial 5-game series, put the Braves seven games ahead of the second-place Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates.

Aaron's homer inflicted the loss on Al Worthington, second of three Giant hurlers. It was his sixth loss against 10 victories.

McMahon Wins

The victory went to Don McMahon the third Milwaukee hurler, who pitched the ninth and tenth innings. McMahon has a 7-2 record.

Starter Carl Willey lost two runs in the first inning when Willie Mays walked and rookie Leon Wagner slammed a 385-foot drive that was his tenth homer of the season and his third in four days.

Del Crandall put the Braves ahead in the second inning with a 3-run homer off starter Johnny Antonelli, who had walked Adcock and Wes Covington before facing Crandall.

The Giants tied the score in the bottom of the second with two singles and a double.

city championship in 1950 at age 20 — is the first to earn three title trophies since the present tourney alignment was inaugurated in 1947. Before yesterday, "Syl" Bayer and John Hayes were tied with Baerenwald at two titles apiece.

Baerenwald was all even at the lunch-time intermission with "Babe," the third different Bayer brother to appear in the finals in the last five years. Both shot medal scores of 1-under-par 71 for the initial 18.

But Baerenwald outlasted Bayer in the afternoon as a treacherous wind sent scores soaring above their brilliant morning level. "Whitey" was five over par for the afternoon 17 holes, while "Babe" zoomed to eight over for the afternoon.

Baerenwald never was headed after breaking a deadlock with a par 4 on the 350-yard ninth hole — the twenty-seventh of the match. From five yards off the green, he chipped to within 18 inches of the cup to set up his par. Bayer's approach (third shot) left him with an 18-foot putt, and he had to settle for a bogey.

Thereafter, Baerenwald's margin fluctuated between one and two holes the rest of the way.

Within 5 Feet

Bayer was only one down going into the thirty-fifth hole, but the curtain came down when he missed a 4-foot par putt. Baerenwald's iron from the tee came within five feet of the pin, but he failed on his birdie putt, setting up a chance for "Babe" to continue the match to the thirty-sixth. But, Bayer, who had chipped to within four feet of the cup from the left of the carpet, missed the relatively short tap.

Earlier, in the afternoon's play, Bayer had rammed home putts of 18 and 25 feet to keep his title hopes very much alive.

Neither player was able to open a margin of more than two holes at any time in the match.

From five yards off the green, he chipped to within 18 inches of the cup to set up his par. Bayer's approach (third shot) left him with an 18-foot putt, and he had to settle for a bogey.

Thereafter, Baerenwald's margin fluctuated between one and two holes the rest of the way.

Within 5 Feet

Bayer was only one down going into the thirty-fifth hole, but the curtain came down when he missed a 4-foot par putt. Baerenwald's iron from the tee came within five feet of the pin, but he failed on his birdie putt, setting up a chance for "Babe" to continue the match to the thirty-sixth. But, Bayer, who had chipped to within four feet of the cup from the left of the carpet, missed the relatively short tap.

Earlier, in the afternoon's play, Bayer had rammed home putts of 18 and 25 feet to keep his title hopes very much alive.

Neither player was able to open a margin of more than two holes at any time in the match.

"Babe," who regards himself as the "second team" in the golfing Bayer family

Bob Friend Captures 17th Win of Season

St. Louis Cops Nightcap for Split; Cubs Fall Twice

By the Associated Press Pittsburgh's youth-minded Pirates, en route to their first finish in the first division in 10 years, are almost certain to have a 20-game pitcher this season. He is Bob Friend, the oldest Pirate in point of service.

The 27-year-old right-hander has 17 victories, more than any other National league hurler. He was credited with the Pirates' 8-4 first-game triumph over St. Louis yesterday although he gave way to Elroy Face after seven innings. St. Louis won the second game, 12-8. The Pirates are one percentage point behind the second-place Giants.

A workhorse, Friend already has pitched 215 innings, second only to Milwaukee's Warren Spahn. Although he has lost 13 games, most in the league, he already has equalled his top winning mark—17-17 in 1956. In seven previous years, he has had only one winning season—14-9 in 1955.

Cincinnati nipped Los Angeles, 6-5, and Philadelphia swept a double-header from Chicago, 13-8 and 5-3. The second game was called after eight innings because of darkness.

Drive in Pair Bill Mazeroski and Hank Foiles drove in two runs each for Pittsburgh in the opener. In the nightcap, Stan Musial's pinch single in the eighth ignited a 5-run inning and enabled the Cards to overcome an 8-7 deficit. Joe Cunningham and Irv Noren drove in runs with singles. Gene Green doubled in another and Frank Thomas' wild throw added two more for St. Louis. Ken Boyer hit a 3-run homer earlier for the winners.

Frank Robinson's 2-out home run in the ninth, after Johnny Temple had led off with a double, gave Cincinnati a come-from-behind 6-5 victory over Los Angeles. Don Zimmer hit a 3-run homer for the Dodgers.

Two Homers Ed Bouchee slammed a home run in each game in Philadelphia's double triumph over the Cubs. His first came with the bases loaded to highlight a 7-run outburst in the seventh inning.

First baseman Jim Marshall, purchased from Baltimore Saturday, kept the Cubs alive in both games. He hit two homers and a single in the first game and came through with a home run and single in the second.

Bears Shade Eagles, 3 to 0 San Francisco Edges Redskins For Second Win

By the Associated Press The Los Angeles Rams, Chicago Bears and Detroit Lions are the only undefeated teams in the National Football league's exhibition season today despite the fact that the pros have been going at it only two weeks.

The Rams and Bears show 2-0 records, while the Lions have won their only game. The Bears chalked up their second triumph Sunday, a 3-0 decision over the Philadelphia Eagles in Columbus. It was the only game of the day.

George Blanda kicked a 19-yard field goal in the second period for the only score. The San Francisco 49ers edged the Washington Redskins, 20-19, at Portland, Ore., skins, 20-19, at Baltimore Colts and settled into the lead position. Chicago Cardinals tied, 31-31, at Austin, Tex., Saturday the 127th lap.

Quarterback John Brodie completed 19 out of 26 passes for the 49ers, but it was Gorbob Veith of Oakland, Calif. who pushed "Frisco" to a finished second, followed in front when he kicked a 32-yard field goal with a minute and a half remaining.

Al Baerenwald Beats Bayer In Golf Finals

First, Richardson — playing at his peak — says he needs more financial help than the standard expenses to go to Australia for the Davis Cup Challenge round. He still wants his wife to accompany him. In the past, the committee has said no.

Second, Olmedo, though legally eligible for the U. S. cup team through three years of residence, is not a citizen. He is a Peruvian national.

The Richardson-Olmedo triumph was no fluke. They knocked off defending champions Ashley Cooper and Neale Fraser of Australia in a brilliant semi-final display. In the quarter-finals they ousted the second of three Aussie tandems, Rod Laver and Bob Mark.

10-footer for a potential match-evening birdie. Baerenwald's par on the next hole ended the 5-week-long tournament. Enroute to the title, Baerenwald defeated Bob Geenen, Bill Gmeiner, Elmer Selig, Gil Stordock and Bayer.

Baerenwald won his first crown in 1950 by decisioning Don Strutz in the finals. In 1953, he triumphed over Bob Martin in the deciding match. Baerenwald lost to Tom Lemons in the 1955 finals and to "Syl" Bayer in 1956.

Nifty 5-Iron Shot The most notable exception on the front nine was Baerenwald's earning a 1-up lead with a nifty "bird" on the 455-yard seventh hole. "Whitey" followed a long drive with a beautiful 5-iron swoosh onto the green. He approached — putted within two feet and holed out his next.

Bayer squared it in a hurry by paring No. 8 (twenty-sixth of the match) with a help of an on-target pitch into the teeth of the wind. After falling behind on the twenty-seventh hole, Bayer called on his putter for life-saving assistance on the next two. He halved the twenty-eighth and twenty-ninth with par putts of 18 and 25 feet.

Bayer's hot putting touch was gone with the cold wind on the twelfth hole. A costly mull of a 21-foot par putt put him 2 down.

Wins With Par "Babe," however, shrugged off the disappointment and won the next hole with a par 4. Baerenwald's 10 - foot par putt on the thirty-second returned the bulge to 2-up. "Whitey" had trouble staying down the middle on the thirty-third, and Bayer won it with a par 4.

Baerenwald's strong comeback after a weak drive gave him a vital half on the thirty-fourth hole. Bayer missed a final, 2 and 1.

Kramer Arrives In Green Bay

at around 230 pounds — a weigh he'll want to carry this year provided all goes well. "Let's see now," Kramer said, "this is the twenty-fourth. The season opens next month near the end — maybe I can make it."

The arrival of Kramer added to the fierce competitive spirit and attitude of the 1958 Packer camp. There are 54 active players in camp now, including Kramer and Harry Horton who participated in Sunday's scrimmage despite an arm fracture just two weeks ago.

Reduce Six The squad was reduced by the release of six players Saturday — veterans Norm Amundsen, and Willie Berzinski and rookies Doug Mason, Joe Reese, Gene Cook and Esker Harris.

Cook's departure left only two slot backs — Steve Meilinger and Joe Johnson—until Kramer stepped into the picture. Kramer caught 28 passes as a rookie slot back last year in 10 games and less than two quarters into the eleventh. He ranked as the second highest Packer receiver — next to Billy Howton who caught 38.

The Bays' scrimmaged for about 20 minutes Sunday before a crowd held down to about 500 by a stiff, cold, northwind wind it was quite hot on the field however as one group of athletes (the offense) tried to protect the passer against the claws of another eleven (the defense).

Defensive Coach Ray Richards and Nick Skorch, who coaches the offensive line, both had their chance to smile. Head Coach Ray McLean liked the whole business—though once he had to make with the "all right, all right, break it up," when a group fight broke out. One of the "fighters" was the aforementioned Horton who apparently has forgotten all about that broken arm.

Gray Sparkles Young Ken Gray continued to sparkle as a defensive left tackle exerting excellent pressure on anyone playing opposite him — not to mention the passer. Gray also went to offensive right guard.

The handy Hawaiian, Joe Francis, saw plenty of action as a cornerback on defense. Joe also is the club's third quarterback and doing quite well at it, judging by the recent squad game.

The big objective this week will be the non-championship game against the Philadelphia Eagles in City Stadium Labor day afternoon, kickoff at 4:30.

Richardson and Olmedo Take Doubles Title

Result Produces Problem for Cup Selection Group

Brookline, Mass. — (AP) — Ham Richardson and Alex Olmedo, National Doubles champions, have dumped a problem in the U. S. Davis Cup selection committee's lap—and it's a sandy. Although they hadn't played together prior to last Wednesday, Richardson and Olmedo completed a sweep to the crown Sunday by defeating Davis cup team members Barry MacKay and Sam Giammalva, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

The nation's amateur tennis overlords were delighted at the first all-American doubles final since 1948. But the result left the selection committee a double-pronged dilemma for their early September meeting at Forest Hills, N. Y.

Japanes Fumes May Cause Cancer

Reno — A Japanese surgeon says he believes automobile exhaust fumes and industrial smoke may cause more lung cancer in the United States than does cigaret smoking.

Dr. Komei Nakayama, professor of surgery at the University of Chiba school of medicine at Chiba, Japan, was asked his opinion at a western regional meeting of the International College of Surgeons.

He said Japanese smoke far more heavily than Americans, but the incidence of lung cancer in Japan is very low.

Dr. Ross T. McIntire, the late President Roosevelt's personal physician, concluded the panel discussion with: "Now we can all take a puff."

Little Rock Perils Rules of Reason

Need Temperate Words, Actions
From Men of Responsibility

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

Washington — The rule of law is in danger in Little Rock but the rule of reason is in danger in the national political community.

Not often has the country seen a time when temperate word and action were more needed. Not in recent times have all men holding any responsibility had a greater duty to have done with the knee-jerk reactions of emotionalism.

The harsh complications of the racial issue have for the first time produced the most perilous of all situations to common sense. For the first time, the two extremes are meeting — not by intention but in effect.

Orval Faubus in Arkansas has declared the supreme court's school integration decision to be "unconstitutional." He has thus, as governor of a single state, asserted an interpretive power over the federal constitution which that constitution itself has given only to the court.

Senator Paul H. Douglas of Illinois, a civil rights leader, has attempted to have the United States senate express its "full support and approval" of the court's decision. This is only the other side of the Faubus coin.

Resists Efforts

This is perhaps most of all why President Eisenhower himself has persistently resisted all efforts to force him not merely to promise to enforce the court's decree but to "approve" it.

In this, whatever his failures of leadership elsewhere on the racial issue, the president is standing upon what some here see as the only possible constitutional ground. He is refusing to raise the smallest suggestion that it is his business either to approve or disapprove. It is his business only to enforce.

These are not merely the views of those often dismissed in the prevailing climate as mere "moderates." These are also the views of some of the most devoted of all the advocates of all-out civil rights — and of all-out enforcement.

They are not trying to "let Faubus get away with it" and again defy federal court orders. They are trying instead to support the president's power — and duty — to maintain order in Little Rock if he must. But they are backing a sensible use of that power.

Federal Troops

Why, they ask, were federal troops sent last time before the federal department of justice made any effort to use its easily exercisable right to summon any number of deputy marshals to enforce integration orders?

The president will be under heavy pressure from these responsibilities, if Little Rock again erupts in violence, to make use of this civil alternative before again resorting to the military one.

If he is wise, it is felt among some of his well-wishers inside and outside congress, he will at least make the attempt this time if the new legal breathing spell at length produces final — and resisted — orders for integration at once.

School Crossing Guards Needed For 3 Streets

Three crossing guards are needed to protect children at school zone street crossings this fall, Appleton Traffic Sgt. John Gosch announced today.

The guards, preferably housewives who live near the crossings, work four hours a day, are paid $1.35 an hour and are furnished most of their uniforms.

The crossings are at W. Foster and S. Wilke streets, N. Badger avenue and W. Winnebago street, and Foster and S. Oneida streets.

Application forms can be obtained from Sgt. Gosch at the Appleton police station, N. Morrison and W. Washington streets.

Crossing guards working the full school year are paid $365. There are 16 crossing guard positions in the city.

FACSIMILE BALLOT NOTICE OF

September Primary Election

SEPT. 9, 1958

Office of County Clerk

STATE OF WISCONSIN )
COUNTY OF OUTAGAMIE ) SS

To the Electors of Outagamie County:

NOTICE is hereby given that an Election is to be held in the several Towns, Wards, Villages, and Election Precincts in the County of Outagamie, on the 9th day of September, 1958, at which the officers named below are to be chosen. The names of the candidates for each office to be voted for, whose nominations have been certified to or filed in this office, are given under the title of the office and under the appropriate party or other designation, each in its proper column, in the sample ballot below.

INFORMATION TO VOTERS

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters:

A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk which must have indorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for.

At a party primary election, the voter shall select the party ticket of his choice and make a cross or other mark in the square at the right of the name of the candidate for each office for whom he intends to vote for, or by inserting or writing in the name of any other candidate.

The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled, it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all shall be issued to any one voter. Five minutes' time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandum to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter.

After it is marked it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed indorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place.

A voter, who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of two election officers in marking same, to be chosen by the voter; and if he declares that he is totally blind, he may be assisted by any person chosen by him from among the legal voters of the county. The presiding officer may administer an oath in his discretion, as to such person's disability.

The following is a facsimile of the official ballot:

Survey Report

Obsolete Equipment in Plants Handicaps Business Recovery

Plant idleness in the current recession generally has been exaggerated, but obsolescence is a handicap to business recovery for one-fourth of the nation's middle-sized manufacturers, according to a survey to be published in the September issue of Dun's Review and Modern Industry.

Of the 367 manufacturers interviewed in 44 cities, 95 admitted operating with equipment which was 22 per cent obsolete. There is a direct relationship between idleness and obsolescence, according to the survey.

Three-fourths of the companies surveyed were operating at 95 per cent or better of their peak production rates of the last two years and reported only 5 per cent obsolescence in equipment. The group of companies with the poorest showing were operating at 65 per cent of their peak of the last two years, and it was among these companies that obsolescence was most pronounced and the problems of financing a modernization program most difficult.

Many concerns admitted they could sell the increased output of improved facilities at a profit but were hesitant to accept the burden of financing improvements.

A "wait and see" policy is reflected among the concerns with facilities of marginal value. A number of companies in industries undergoing technological change are biding their time for a clearer picture of industrial trends and can see no benefit from large capital outlays at this time.

The degree of plant idleness which passed its peak in March, 1958, was exaggerated in many public estimates. Not only was this apparent in the more prosperous industry classifications—food, drugs and chemicals—but also in industries which reported a substantial decline in sales volume, such as textiles, where only 4 per cent of the companies were working less than 75 per cent of their peak of the past two years.

Lead Advance

Fractional Gains Prevail in Active Session on Exchange

New York —Steels advanced in a generally higher stock market early this afternoon. Trading was fairly active.

Gains of leading stocks went from fractions to a point or more. There was a liberal scattering of fractional losers. U. S. Steel was at a new high and other steels did well as financial quarters anticipated a continuing boost in steel production.

Aircrafts were somewhat higher and rails continued to move ahead. Motors were firm. Oils and Airlines were a bit soft. Chemicals and drugs were mixed.

Gains of around a point were made by U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic Steel, Jones & Laughlin and Youngstown Sheet. Lukens rose beyond a point and United Aircraft was around a point to the good.

Fractionally higher were Illinois Central, Southern Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio and New York Central.

U. S. government bonds were firm.

Chicago Poultry

Chicago —(U.S.A.)—Live poultry no tone; Friday's receipts were 90,000 lbs.; wholesale buying prices unchanged to 1/2 lower; caponettes over 4 1/2 lbs 23 1/2-25.

Sheep estimated 300; Friday's market steady; good and choice old crop 17.00-23.50; cull to medium 10.00-16.00; ewes & bucks 6.00 and down.

Neighbors Give Family Big Welcome

Kansas City —Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. Connealy and family returned from vacation—and what a hubbub. They'd been gone only two weeks visiting his parents and her mother at Decatur, Neb., but almost everyone along the first block of Concord avenue west of Main street turned out to welcome them home to Kansas City.

At 5 12 p. m. the station wagon of accountant Connealy appeared and was quickly engulfed by 40 to 50 kids, all screaming.

Connealy finally got the idea. He was to drive around the block and come in the other way, the way they'd been expected, so they could see the banner flung across the street:

WE MISSED YOU ALL

Hanging from the house was another: "Welcome Home Happy Honeymooners"

That was a joke. Beneath it were caricatures of Mr. and Mrs. Connealy and their seven children—Joseph, 14, Dan, 12, Kathy, 10, Kevin, 9, John, 7,

Terry, 3, and Tim, 13 months. The youngsters spilled two and three at a time out of the station wagon, a welter of pillows, blankets, sacks of groceries and suitcases in two luggage racks on top.

The family, with escort, moved toward the front door and someone shoved a cold beer into Connealy's hand.

Why all the fuss?

Everyone on Concord avenue just loves the Connealys.

New oil furnace

developed by Iron Fireman . . . revolutionizes oil heating . . . greatest advance in years!

Iron Fireman CUSTOM Mark II oil furnace with instant clean flame. Unequaled for clean comfort, low fuel bills and trouble-free performance

How is this new furnace DIFFERENT?

Comfort you've never before experienced

Steady, even temperature is the secret of heating comfort. With the Iron Fireman CUSTOM Mark II furnace you use a supersensitive thermostat which operates the furnace with the slightest variation of room temperature. This gives you shorter, more frequent firing periods, with remarkably uniform indoor temperature. The instant clean flame of the CUSTOM Mark II furnace makes this possible. No matter how often it starts, the flame instantly burns clean—no smoke, no soot, no fouled combustion chamber, no wasted oil.

The kind of cleanliness you've dreamed about

With the instant clean flame of the CUSTOM Mark II furnace there are no flecks of soot blowing from your chimneys or escaping into your home. The Iron Fireman CUSTOM Mark II furnace has passed hundreds of tests made with smoke-detecting instruments. These tests show a flame that's absolutely clean from the very moment it's turned on.

Down go fuel bills

Owners of Iron Fireman CUSTOM Mark II furnaces report remarkable fuel savings. The instant clean flame burns at top efficiency throughout the entire firing cycle—no smoky warm-up period. In addition to exceptionally high combustion efficiency, the loss of heat up the chimney during "off" periods is practically eliminated.

ciency throughout the entire firing cycle—no smoky warm-up period. In addition to exceptionally high combustion efficiency, the loss of heat up the chimney during "off" periods is practically eliminated.

Trouble-free operation

The CUSTOM Mark II furnace calls to the vanishing point. Most oil burner operating difficulties are caused by soot and carbon. Not only does the instant clean flame start clean; it stays clean. Further, its induced draft keeps the burner nozzle cool, and thus eliminates clogging by baked carbon deposits.

Operates without chimney draft

The CUSTOM Mark II furnace provides its own positive induced draft with precision control. Users are not dependent on natural chimney draft. No costly high chimneys needed. No fire or freezebox warm-up period. No down draft problems due to wind conditions.

Quiet

The easy-burning globular flame is a pleasant change from the blowtorch roar of the conventional oil burner. Fan has resilient mountings to dampen vibration and is sized for large capacity at low, quiet speeds.

The Iron Fireman CUSTOM Mark II oil furnace comes from the factory as a complete package, requiring only service connections. Due to precision controlled induced draft, burner can be finely adjusted for top combustion efficiency at the factory; so on-the-job tinkering, squaring, over-furnace controls are factory installed, wired and tested.

Come in and see the remarkable new Iron Fireman CUSTOM Mark II oil furnace in actual operation. SEEING IS BELIEVING!
